PULWAMA 'CONSPIRATOR' BURHAN SHOT DEAD BY UNKNOWN MEN IN PoK

A key accused in the 2019 Pulwama attack, Hamza Burhan alias 'Doctor', was shot dead in Pakistan-occupied Kashmir, Indian intelligence officials said

India-Africa meet postponed over Ebola virus scare

Decision after fresh outbreak in DR Congo; fliers from affected countries to be screened

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA and the African Union have postponed the Fourth India–Africa Forum Summit, originally scheduled to be held in New Delhi from May 28 to 31, amid growing concerns over the Ebola outbreak in parts of Africa.

The decision comes at a time when India was preparing to unveil an ambitious roadmap to deepen its strategic, economic and developmental partnership with the African continent after a gap of nearly a decade.

The Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) said India and the African Union had held consultations on the "evolving health situation" and agreed that it would be "advisable" to convene the summit at a later date.

"Recognising the importance of ensuring the full participation and engagement of African leaders and stakeholders, and mindful of the emerging public health situation on the continent, consultations were held between the Government of India, the Chairperson of the African Union, and the African Union Commission," the MEA said.

The decision to postpone the summit was taken against the backdrop of a fresh outbreak in the Democratic Republic of Congo, which the World Health Organization has declared a public health emergency of international concern. More than 136 deaths have reportedly been linked to the outbreak so far.

The summit was expected to bring together leaders from across Africa along with representatives of the African Union Commission to chart a broader framework for cooperation in sectors ranging from trade, energy and technology to healthcare, capacity building and digital infrastructure. Several African leaders had already confirmed their participation.

The postponement of the summit will delay what was being viewed as a major diplomatic push by India to reinforce its engagement with Africa amid intensifying geopolitical competition for greater influence on the continent.

IBCA summit, too, postponed

The first International Big Cat Alliance (IBCA) Summit, which was scheduled to be held in New Delhi on June 1 in conjunction with the India-Africa summit, too, has been postponed in view of the Ebola outbreak. "In order to ensure broad and active participation from all Range countries, including African countries, the First IBCA Summit will be convened at a later date," an official release said.

IBCA, a global initiative for the conservation of seven major big cat species, was launched by PM Narendra Modi on April 9, 2023. It was formally established on March 12, 2024.

US offers 'separate treatment' for India under Sec 232 probe

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

IN the ongoing trade talks with the US, India has secured relatively favourable terms on several items facing investigation under Section 232, including pharmaceutical products, auto parts and aircraft components, a commerce ministry source familiar with the matter said.

"As far as certain other products are concerned which are under Section 232 investigation, there is a separate treatment for them also. We have got exemption for aircraft parts and, to some extent, on auto parts. We also have a framework to work on generic pharma," the source told TNIE.

Under Section 232 of the US Trade Expansion Act of 1962, the US government can impose tariffs on imports on grounds of national security concerns.

Washington has invoked the provision to levy duties on sectors such as steel, aluminium, automobiles, aircraft and their parts, semiconductors and pharmaceuticals. These tariffs currently range between 10% and 50% on a range of strategic products. Some Indian exports, including steel, aluminium, and autoparts face tariffs of 25-50% under Section 232. Generic pharmaceuticals, however, currently attract no tariff.

In the India-US joint statement signed in February 2025, the US had agreed to provide India with "negotiated outcomes with respect to generic pharmaceuticals and ingredients", contingent on the findings of the Section 232 probe.

"So comparatively, when I look at our terms of settlement, the terms are better than any competitor for India," the source added.

Indian negotiators have been pushing for product-specific relaxations as part of the broader bilateral trade discussions.

The development comes at a time when India and the US are continuing negotiations for a proposed bilateral trade agreement, with both sides aiming to conclude an interim arrangement before moving towards a broader pact.

US Secretary of State Marco Rubio will visit India from May 23 to 26. The four-day visit, his first visit to India since taking office, will focus on trade, defence and energy cooperation.

Delegation coming

Commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal said a US delegation is expected to visit India next month for further negotiations on the proposed agreement. This follows the talks held in April in Washington between Indian and US officials

NEET-UG: NTA officials face scrutiny from MPs

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AMID the row over the cancelled NEET-UG exams, top officials of the National Testing Agency (NTA) came under intense scrutiny from a Parliamentary panel on Thursday over the question paper leak and related irregularities.

According to sources, NTA Director General Abhishek Singh informed the panel that the question paper was not leaked through the agency's system, adding that the CBI is currently investigating the breach.

The panel summoned the officials amid multiple arrests by the CBI, which included teachers and intermediaries allegedly linked to the question paper leak prior to the exam.

During the meeting of the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Education, Women, Children, Youth and Sports, several opposition MPs grilled the NTA officials on the steps they have taken to strengthen the exam system.

Sources said that when MPs questioned how the National Eligibility-cum-Entrance Test (Undergraduate) paper was leaked, Singh responded that it had not been compromised through the NTA system. Several MPs then pressed him on how the leak occurred and why the exam had to be cancelled and a retest conducted. Singh, however, said that the matter is being probed by the CBI. According to sources, some opposition MPs demanded that the investigation report be shared with the panel, but BJP members argued that the CBI should be allowed to complete its probe without interference. Sources said the Parliamentary panel's chairperson, Congress MP Digvijaya Singh, raised objections to comments made by Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan during a May 15 press meet regarding the standing committee.

Govt may soon approach SC against SIR process

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE state cabinet on Thursday discussed multiple strategies, including approaching the Supreme Court, to counter the scheduled Special Intensive Revision (SIR).

Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister HK Patil said the cabinet meeting discussed all possibilities on SIR and a final decision will be taken in three to four days. Sources in the government said the CM and other leaders will discuss it on Sunday and the final decision will likely be taken by May 25.

Patil told reporters that it was felt that the Supreme Court can be approached even as the process is on now, or after the final voter list is published. "We will discuss it over the next three days and arrive at a decision," he said.

Patil said the government's concern is to prevent any attempt at depriving voters of their electoral rights. "If any voter's rights are being curtailed or taken away, we want to stop such a process," he said.

Raising concerns over transparency in SIR, Patil pointed to the deletion of voters in other states and said such actions would affect public confidence in the electoral system.

Asked why the government is considering moving the Supreme Court, instead of approaching the Election Commission of India (ECI), Patil said, "The door that is open for us is the Supreme Court." The government has identified 10-12 concerns related to the process, he said, declining to disclose details. Discussions with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah are still on and the final decision is expected by May 25. P6

Landing at KIA, AI flight suffers tail strike

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AN Air India Airbus A321 aircraft suffered a tail strike while landing at Bengaluru's Kempegowda International Airport on Thursday after encountering wake turbulence caused by a departing Boeing 747 aircraft, sources said. The Air India flight AI2651, operating from Delhi to Bengaluru, was approaching the runway when a Boeing 747, known for its massive size and engine thrust, took off ahead of it from the same runway, the sources added.

Sources said the larger aircraft generated strong "wake turbulence", a phenomenon caused by disturbed air currents left behind by an aircraft during takeoff. "It was not weather-related turbulence or gusty winds. This was a case of wake turbulence," a source said.

According to sources, the pilot realised the aircraft was being affected by the turbulence and immediately decided to abort the landing and carry out a precautionary go-around manoeuvre. During the manoeuvre, the aircraft's tail struck the runway. The incident occurred between 11 am and noon. "The pilot was cautious enough to immediately take a go-around call. It was the right thing to do," the source added, noting that the incident was not attributed to pilot error.

An Air India spokesperson said, "Flight AI2651 landed safely, and all passengers and crew disembarked normally."

The airline said the aircraft has been grounded for inspection and the incident will be investigated in accordance with established procedures.

As a result of the incident, the return flight AI2652 from Bengaluru to Delhi was cancelled. "Alternative arrangements are being made to accommodate affected passengers at the earliest," the spokesperson said. Air India also expressed regret and reiterated that the safety of passengers and crew remained its "highest priority".

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

GREATER Bengaluru Authority (GBA) Chief Commissioner M Maheshwar Rao directed BSPCL, the contractor of the Ejipura Flyover, to deploy additional staff and labourers to ensure completion of the project within the deadline.

At a review meeting with officials and contractors of the project, which is being executed under the Bengaluru South City Corporation, on Thursday, Rao directed officials to relocate the BESCOM Ring Main Unit located at the Madivala-side ramp site in 24 hours and remove the three trees opposite Kendriya Sadan in four days to facilitate the commencement of ramp construction work.

"The down-ramp work on the Domlur side is 70% complete. Deploy additional manpower and complete the remaining down-ramp work within 15 days. After this, the Sarjapur-side down-ramp construction should be taken up and completed within the next 15 days. The launch of four spans near the Ejipura Signal Junction commenced yesterday (Wednesday) and must be completed within two months," the chief commissioner said. He said the agency has been instructed to expedite the construction of five portal frames and complete the main flyover project by the end of October.

Officials were directed to ensure that there are no potholes on roads adjoining the flyover construction zone. They have to repair all potholes immediately. As the monsoon season is approaching, both side drains should be thoroughly desilted to facilitate the smooth flow of rainwater. Preventive measures must also be taken to avoid waterlogging in any section of the flyover construction area during the rainy season. Instructions were also issued to ensure the proper installation and functioning of streetlights.

- Out of 762 segments, 731 have already been cast.

MOST parts of the city received sudden heavy showers from Thursday evening till late into the night. According to the India Meteorological Department, the city recorded 44.2 mm rain till 8.30 pm. The summer showers brought down over half a dozen trees across the city resulting in traffic jams. While heavy rainfall was reported near Vijaynagar, Shanthinagar, Lalbagh, Cubbon Park, Rajajinagar and KR Market, hailstorms were reported at surrounding areas of Majestic and Mysuru Bank.

Due to flooding of roads and peak traffic hours, vehicular movement was hit across Central Business District areas. PALACE ROAD

Manhole cover washes away, tragedy averted

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE brief but furious thunderstorm on Thursday evening turned Palace Road into a watery trap, just 100 metres from the chief secretary's official residence. Between 6.10 pm and 6.40 pm, the skies unleashed heavy rain that left the iconic stretch flooded, with a massive gush of water pouring out from the National Gallery of Modern Art (NGMA) straight onto the road, worsening the chaos.

In the middle of this deluge, a manhole cover got washed away, leaving a gaping hole. A red scooter rider, unaware of the danger, rode straight into the open manhole. For a heart-stopping second, disaster looked certain. But alert passersby sprang into action, grabbing the rider and the vehicle in time to prevent a serious accident.

TNIE was on the spot to witness the narrow escape. A local resident immediately reached out to jurisdictional MLA Rizwan Arshad, who contacted BBMP officials. Within a short time, a BBMP team arrived and restored the manhole cover.

Locals revealed that several vehicles had already been stuck in the open manhole earlier. A passerby had tried to mark the hazard by placing a portion of a tree trunk over it. But the barrier created fresh trouble as buses and cars started hitting the protruding log, stalling traffic. Frustrated drivers and passengers stepped out onto the flooded road and dragged the heavy trunk aside. Residents said the city's drains desperately need urgent desilting and cleaning before the real monsoon hits in about two weeks. "This is just the beginning," one said.

A team member from Rizwan Arshad's office said they will tour vulnerable areas and ensure BBMP replaces washed away manhole covers quickly.

North corpn sounds alert on rickety buildings in Pulikeshinagar Division

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the wall collapse incident at Bowring and Lady Curzon Hospital at Shivajinagar and heavy rains expected in the coming days, the Bengaluru North City Corporation (BNCC) has began issuing 'public alert' and appeals to residents to inform them about dilapidated buildings and dangerous compound walls in Pulikeshi Nagar Division of the corporation limit.

As per Pommala Sunil Kumar, Commissioner, BNCC, a public advisory has been issued regarding dilapidated buildings and dangerous compound walls in various wards of Pulikeshinagar Division.

"Preventive measures are being undertaken to identify dangerous buildings and walls, including government schools, private schools, government and private buildings, and compound walls located in wards such as Shampura, Kaval Bairasandra, Shakti Nagar, Periyar Nagar, Varalakshminagar, Doddannanagar, Kushalnagar, Sagayapuram, Pulikeshinagar and SK Garden," he said.

In case of any accident or untoward incident caused due to negligence, property owners concerned will be held directly responsible, he warned.

A senior official from BNCC Town Planning Department said that the roads are narrow and congested in Pulakeshinagar division and any mishap like building wall collapse, the fire force, ambulance and others cannot reach easily. Citizens have been requested to inform Pulikeshinagar Division officials through phone call or WhatsApp if they notice any dilapidated buildings or dangerous walls that may pose a threat to public safety.

The civic body also clarified that owners of private schools, private buildings and compound walls found to be in a dangerous condition have been instructed to immediately remove or repair them at their own cost and take necessary safety measures. "The civic body will not take up any demolition of such dangerous walls and houses, which are of a private nature, for free," he said.

Rethink on K'taka Public Schools crucial: Baraguru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WRITER and academic Baraguru Ramachandrappa has called for a thorough review of the Karnataka Public School (KPS) concept being introduced by the state government, warning that it could create a crisis leading to the closure of neighbouring government schools.

He was speaking after inaugurating a national seminar on 'Kannada as the Language of Livelihood' organised by the Department of Kannada Studies at Dr Manmohan Singh Bengaluru City University at Central College on Thursday.

He said the government must carefully examine the long-term impact of KPS schools. Referring to the possible closure of government primary schools, he remarked that if schools shut due to government action, it amounts to "murder", while closure on their own would be equivalent to "suicide".

Questioning the need for pre-primary and primary sections within KPS institutions, he said accommodating children of vastly different age groups under one roof could create administrative and academic challenges. He urged Chief Minister Siddaramaiah to immediately look into the issue.

He also demanded that the state government focus on improving the quality of all existing government schools while ensuring effective English teaching from Class 1, as already announced. Ramachandrappa further called for grant-in-aid support to Kannada-medium private schools established after 1995 and advocated a national policy prioritising employment opportunities for locals.

Presiding over the event, Vice-Chancellor Ramesh B stressed the need to modernise Kannada usage to suit the demands of the competitive technological era. Special lectures were delivered by K Y Narayanaswamy, in-charge Vice-Chancellor of Maharani Cluster University, along with senior writers Rajappa Dalavayi and H L Pushpa, who interacted with students during the seminar. N Mukundaraj, president of the Karnataka Sahitya Academy was the chief guest.

HOLIDAY MATHIS

22nd May : Solar Conjunction Here's an image for the solar conjunction in Uranus: When each individual says the same thing, it doesn't feel like group unity. It feels creepy. That's because we instinctively know that too much agreement among humans is a signal of fear, not alignment. It makes the intelligent wonder: Is disagreement and dissent being punished? Is one person doing all thinking?

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It's one thing to make a mistake, but quite another to participate in a tough and complicated system that you did not invent. The former warrants correction or maybe amends. The latter needs grace.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20)
Today's mission requires self-discipline. Luckily, your inner drive is set to "fierce." Later, these same moves won't require discipline at all. They will be so engrained in you, they will be almost effortless. But today, you'll muscle through.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 21)
Shimmering potential is the theme. You'll have the opportunity to start from scratch with all the right ingredients and instructions that work perfectly if you follow them closely. Beginner's luck is on your side, so go for it!

CANCER (June 22 - July 22)
No one builds a reputation on what they hope to do. You're working to realize your dreams. In the meantime, you're careful not to discuss your plans too widely. You'd rather wait and see their reaction to the real-world proof.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22)
The ego isn't some villain. It's the part of you with personality, preferences, boundaries and conviction. Even so, things go better today when you don't let the ego be in charge of everything. Backing off often moves you forward.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22)
You'll act before you feel ready, and that's normal. Preparation has limits. There is a threshold where action teaches faster than planning. Step across it, collect feedback, adjust and continue until the impossible looks like something you simply did.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 23)
Counteract the effects of stress by taking frequent breaks, eating right and most importantly, getting good rest. The care you take now will affect how you'll do on the test that's coming up.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 21)
An idea might be good in conversation, but you can't build a reputation on it. Reputation grows from what you finish. Completed work travels and gets used, judged and remembered. Each finish line is proof that brings the next starting line.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21)
You'll run small experiments. Take one new thing at a time and use it on a real piece of work. Apply, observe, keep or discard. Assess what worked, what didn't, what you'd change -- that's where learning sticks.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19)
Though there's nothing wrong with being wrapped up in your work, if loved ones feel neglected, it could cause problems for you. These troubles can be completely prevented by spending quality time with them before it becomes an issue.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
Focus gets results, but tunnel vision can make those results quite boring. You're more than one track. Let your curiosity wander. Give other interests some airtime. They cross-pollinate, spark ideas and make your work richer and more alive.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar 20)
If everything good or everything bad is accounted for by the votes gained, then morality is at the whim of public opinion. That can't be right. You're sorting out what makes sense to you, which doesn't always match mainstream beliefs.

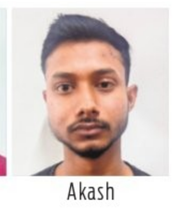
Fake call centres targeting US citizens busted

2 accused in Bengaluru, kingpins on the run

Prashanth



Akash

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state cyber command police arrested two persons for allegedly operating fake call centres in Bengaluru and cheating several US citizens by impersonating "QuickBooks", a prominent US-based accounting software company. The accused, Prashanth from Delhi and Akash from Uttar Pradesh, are aged between 25 and 35.

Southeast cyber crime police, along with the special cyber cell, raided four locations where the fake call centres were operating in Bengaluru. The accused were impersonating QuickBooks and cheating US citizens by providing counterfeit tax advice, fake licence keys, licensing and renewal services and collecting large sums of money as fee. The call centre personnel used fake names resembling those of the company officials and defrauded gullible citizens. During the raids, police seized 44 solid-state drives, two mobile phones, two laptops, nine CPUs, scripts prepared to converse with victims, and other accessories allegedly used for the fraud.

The preliminary probe revealed that the accused were operating the network for the past four years and had been in Bengaluru for the last two years. With around 30 employees, they operated from two locations in Koramangala and one each in HSR Layout and Choodasandra. When the employees were questioned, only a few were aware of the cheating.

The officer said they have launched a manhunt for the kingpins of the racket and two other accused who are absconding. The two arrested were operating the offices in the city by hiring college dropouts and other youngsters, employed with salaries upto Rs 20,000 per month. The accused had registered the company as a legitimate business entity and used multiple shell companies to siphon off huge amounts of money from US citizens.

FBI Boston flags scam

Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) in Boston shared on X on Wednesday, "The FBI has shut down a call centre operation in India that defrauded hundreds of elderly victims in the US and abroad of millions of dollars through tech support scams. Two senior executives who operated a business that enabled the fraud have admitted to turning a blind eye to the widespread scam." FBI Boston investigation had resulted in the arrests and convictions of a former employee of the call-routing company and five India-based telemarketing fraudsters.

Real estate agent accused of molesting girl at party

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A 20-year-old college student was allegedly molested by a man at a party in the Madiwala police station limits recently.

The police said the victim, a student, also worked part-time at a hotel. The hotel owners, who were planning to sell the property, had befriended a broker, Hainas, who had assured them that he will facilitate the sale within a couple of weeks. He had requested the hotel owners to host a small party. On May 11, the two hotel owners, the victim, and Hainas had gathered for a party at the owners' house. During the party, the two owners went out to bring food. Taking advantage of the situation, Hainas allegedly molested the woman, the complaint stated.

After the two owners returned and rescued her, the accused allegedly picked up a liquor bottle and threatened to kill them. When the victim tried to file a complaint, Hainas allegedly threatened her with dire consequences. On May 14, she noticed some unidentified persons moving around suspiciously near the hotel where she worked. She got frightened and left for Kerala. She claimed in her complaint that the hotel owners were assaulted by nine men, allegedly at the behest of the accused.

The Madiwala police registered a case against Hainas, who hails from Kerala, and issued a notice asking him to appear before them for questioning. The accused claimed that the physical relationship was consensual and that he can provide records of conversations between them to prove it. The police said he will be summoned for detailed questioning, and further legal action will be taken based on the investigation.

Seven Bakrid sheep stolen from godown

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

M Saud Ahmed (23), a construction firm owner, has lost his seven sheep to a theft, ahead of Bakrid. Ahmed along with his relatives had purchased them to sacrifice on the festival and kept in an empty godown of a furniture shop on Thanisandra Main Road. A gang of seven miscreants came in a van and escaped with the sheep. A complaint was filed in Sampigehalli police station on Tuesday.

Ahmed said, "The sheep cost about Rs four lakh. The miscreants have damaged the roller shutter of the godown and entered at 3 am on Saturday. We realised the theft at 9 am on Sunday when I went to feed the sheep. "The vehicle's registration number is not clearly visible in the CCTV footage. We suspect that the accused must have sold the sheep for a cheaper price or taken them to a slaughter house," said an officer.

The Scheme That Gave Women The Freedom to Travel

The Shakthi Guarantee

A Lifeline for Crores of Women

Guarantee Varthe

Bengaluru: The 'Shakthi' scheme was the first among the five Guarantee schemes announced by the Government led by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah after assuming office in the state in 2023. Officially launched on June 11, 2023, the scheme provides free travel in government buses for women and girl students across the state. Over the past three years, this ambitious initiative has brought about a transformative change by ensuring freedom of travel to crores of women across Karnataka.

Women from lower and lower-middle-income backgrounds, including garment workers, civic workers, and daily wage earners, are now saving approximately ₹1,500 to ₹2,000 every month. These savings are being utilised for children's education, household expenses, medicines, and small savings. The scheme has enabled rural girl students to travel to towns and cities for higher education without financial burden. Following the implementation of the scheme, there has also been a significant rise in the number of women devotees visiting major temples and tourist destinations, thereby boosting religious tourism as well.

3 Years of Governance - Announcement of 'Guarantee Habba'

The State Government, which is stepping into the successful fourth year of its people-centric administration, held its three-year achievement convention successfully in Tumakuru on May 19. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah had announced that programmes would be organised throughout the month. Accordingly, the Government has launched programmes under the banner of 'Guarantee Habba', and several campaigns will be conducted across the month.

Over 726 Cr Journeys

According to government data, women passengers have availed over 726 crore free journeys under the 'Shakthi' scheme since its launch. So far, the government has issued tickets worth over ₹18,943 crore and continues to release subsidies to transport corporations on time. To manage the increasing passenger demand, thousands of new buses have been added to transport fleets. To further streamline the scheme and prevent misuse, the government is also moving towards introducing the 'Shakthi Smart Card' for women shortly.

A Model for Other States

Karnataka's 'Shakthi' scheme is not limited to free bus travel alone; by increasing women's mobility, it has instilled renewed confidence among them. The success of Karnataka's model has inspired several other states to implement similar initiatives. Telangana has introduced 'Mahalakshmi', Andhra Pradesh has launched 'Sthree Shakthi', and Kerala too has implemented a similar scheme. West Bengal has also announced a scheme and has moved towards implementation.

NEET paper leak: CM wants PM to apologise to students

Lambasts Centre, says states should be allowed to independently conduct medical entrance examinations through CET system

Karnataka Youth Congress chief Manjunath Gowda leads the party members during the protest against the NEET paper leak, in Bengaluru on Thursday | KEVIN NASHON

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Thursday demanded that Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan take responsibility for the alleged NEET-UG 2026 question paper leak and tender an unconditional apology to students.

Speaking at a protest organised by Youth Congress at Freedom Park in Bengaluru against alleged irregularities in the NEET examination, Siddaramaiah said states should be allowed to independently conduct medical entrance examinations through the CET system. He alleged that despite the NEET paper leak controversy, neither the PM nor the Union Education Minister had accepted responsibility. "Dharmendra Pradhan has merely announced another date for the NEET examination and washed his hands of the issue. Both he and Prime Minister Narendra Modi must take responsibility," the CM added.

Claiming that Karnataka and several other states earlier conducted CET examination transparently for medical admissions, the CM said the system was changed after Modi became the PM in 2014 and NEET was introduced in 2016. He alleged that question paper leaks had occurred five times in the last 10 years.

Students spend an entire year preparing for NEET and many families spend thousands of rupees on coaching centres, he said, adding that poor and rural students who cannot afford coaching are placed at a disadvantage.

The CM accused the BJP government of discrimination against poor, Dalit, backward class and minority students and said education, being a subject in the Concurrent List, should not be excessively centralised.

Referring to alleged recruitment exam paper leaks during previous BJP governments in Karnataka led by BS Yediyurappa and Basavaraj Bommai, Siddaramaiah said repeated leaks had occurred both at the state and central levels under BJP rule.

He also alleged that students distressed by the NEET paper leak controversy had died by suicide and demanded compensation for their families. He urged the Centre to treat those responsible as "murderers" and punish them accordingly.

Siddaramaiah further demanded that Modi cut short his foreign tour and apologise unconditionally to NEET aspirants. He reiterated that the Centre should hand over the responsibility of conducting medical entrance examinations to individual states.

K'taka to proceed with CET counselling without waiting for NEET results

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Higher Education Minister MC Sudhakar said that the state would proceed with Common Entrance Test (CET) counselling for engineering and other professional courses without waiting for NEET results.

Speaking during the protest staged by Youth Congress members at Freedom Park in Bengaluru on Thursday, where thousands of students and Congress workers gathered over alleged irregularities in the NEET-UG examination, the minister announced that the state will go ahead with allotment of seats for engineering and other courses, delinking this process with NEET, adding that CET results are likely to be declared next week. He reiterated the Congress government's demand to revert to the pre-NEET system.

AICC General Secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala attacked the BJP-led NDA government, accusing it of "collapsing" the education system, citing instances of various paper leaks while pointing out its "systemic failure" in conducting national-level examinations. "For the last 12 years, the Modi government has handed over India's education system to an education mafia and paper leak mafia," he said. He alleged that multiple recruitment and entrance examinations, including NEET and other competitive tests, had been compromised during the tenure of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

'Paper Leak Pe Charcha'

Referring to past controversies, Surjewala cited the Vyapam case and alleged paper leaks in recruitment exams, calling them part of a continuing "pattern of failure" in the country's examination system. He said the country now needed a "Paper Leak Pe Charcha" instead of the Prime Minister's "Pariksha Pe Charcha". He alleged that the current system increasingly favoured coaching centre networks and "education mafias", while making it a disadvantage for students from rural areas and smaller towns.

Referring to the 2024 NEET controversy, he alleged that 67 students had secured full marks while thousands received grace marks, raising concerns over the examination's credibility. He also criticised the Centre for allegedly ignoring recommendations of the Radhakrishnan Committee, including proposals for digital question paper delivery and biometric verification. Questioning the functioning of the National Testing Agency (NTA), Surjewala referred to arrests made by the CBI in connection with the alleged leak and demanded answers from Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan and the PM.

Later, as the protesters attempted to march towards the Lok Bhavan, the march was curtailed by the police and the protestors were detained, while they even tried to cross the barricades that had been erected.

Senior BJP leader says Kharge eying CM post

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BJP National General Secretary Radha Mohan Das Agarwal on Thursday accused AICC President Mallikarjun Kharge of pitting Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and DyCM DK Shivakumar against each other and hoping to become the chief minister of Karnataka.

Speaking to media persons in Bengaluru, the BJP leader said that not just two leaders (Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar), but three of them, including Kharge, are fighting for the CM's chair, and for the past six to seven months, the state government has been non-functional.

The BJP leader said many Congress MLAs are in touch with them, but the people of the state have decided the 2028 assembly election results. Even if the elections are held tomorrow, people will vote Congress out and elect the BJP, he said.

Hitting out at the state government, he termed it a corrupt government based on the politics of appeasement. "It has deceived the people of Karnataka, the guarantees have not been fulfilled, and the government is facing a financial crisis," he said.

Responding to a question on the party not taking a decision on the Karnataka state unit president's appointment, he said they have a state president, and he is working. He said the decision on whether to continue Vijayendra as the state president or not will not be decided in a meeting in Bengaluru. The national leadership is aware of all the developments in the state, and the decision on the state unit president will be announced soon.

Council elections

The BJP leader said they have prepared a list of possible candidates for the MLC polls and will hold further discussions.

On renominating former PM and JDS leader HD Deve Gowda to Rajya Sabha, the BJP leader said it is an alliance issue, and the local unit will not talk about it and the national unit will decide. The BJP national leadership is aware of day-to-day developments in the state, he said.

Meanwhile, BJP president Nitin Nabin is scheduled to hold a series of meetings with his party leaders in Bengaluru on Sunday. During his first visit to Karnataka as the party's national president, Nabin will attend the party's state core committee meeting and state office-bearers meeting, and review the party's preparations for the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls by the Election Commission.

Mekedatu DPR to be submitted to Centre soon, says Shivakumar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

KARNATAKA Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, who also holds the water resources portfolio, has said that the Detailed Project Report (DPR) for the Mekedatu project has been prepared and will soon be submitted to the Union Government for approval.

Speaking to reporters at the Madhyaranga Temple in Kollegal, Chamarajanagar district, Shivakumar said that the groundbreaking ceremony for the project will be performed after receiving clearance from the Centre. "We have already prepared the DPR for the Mekedatu project and opened a dedicated project office. Land is being identified to compensate for the forest area that will be submerged. The DPR will soon be submitted to the Centre, and after approval, the foundation stone for the project will be laid," he said.

On the long-standing Cauvery water-sharing dispute, Shivakumar said that Tamil Nadu has no right to object to the Mekedatu project. He said the Supreme Court had directed that the issue should be decided by the Central Water Commission.

The Deputy Chief Minister, on government completing three years, said the government had fulfilled its promises and introduced Bhoo Guarantee as its sixth guarantee scheme.

"We are issuing property records with photographs of both the owner and the property and delivering khata documents to every household. These are works no previous government undertook. We are repaying the trust of the people," he said, adding that more developmental works would be taken up in the remaining two years of the government's tenure.

Expressing concern over possible rainfall deficiency this year, Shivakumar said the government was discussing measures to protect farmers and address potential drinking water shortage if the monsoon fails.

Rejecting superstitions associated with Chamarajanagar, he said the belief that leaders lose power after visiting the district was baseless. "Chamarajanagar is a historic and sacred land blessed with religious and natural wealth along the banks of the Cauvery. Where there is devotion, there is God," he said.

52 criminal cases withdrawn

The State Government has decided to withdraw 52 criminal cases registered across the state.This has been done in compliance with the directives of courts and based on the recommendations of the Cabinet Sub-Committee. ost of the cases are against pro-Kannada organisations and activists who were involved in various protests. There are also cases that were registered during Covid-19,

The Cabinet approved the appointment of retired High Court judge Justice PN Desai as chairperson of the Human Rights Commission.

The Cabinet also approved setting up of a petrol pump and retail outlet by Indian Oil Corporation Ltd under the dealership model on land belonging to the Prisons Department within the premises of Bengaluru Central Prison.

The Cabinet approved a programme to provide 500 students from backward classes with two years of residential PUC education (First PUC and Second PUC – Science stream), along with NEET/JEE/CET entrance exam coaching. The scheme will cost the government Rs 15 crore. It will cover 15 students from each district who studied in government schools and secured the highest marks in Mathematics and Science in the Class 10 board examination.

CM Siddaramaiah is convening an important day-long meeting with Congress MLAs, former MLAs, MPs, former MPs and heads of various party units to discuss SIR on May 24. AICC General Secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala too is expected to attend.

Sources in the government said concerns have been raised over voter mapping. There is an apprehension that 66% voters in Raichur, 46% in Bengaluru and 6-8% in places like Hassan would be removed from the voter list.

The sources also said that the deletions could be more in places like Raichur, Yadgir and other districts, from where people migrate to bigger cities in search of jobs. A large number of people arrive in Bengaluru and that could be the reason for high deletions.

UNIQUE INITIATIVE

Smart moo-ve: Cattle to get own 'Aadhaar' soon

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

THE State Government is introducing digital identification for cattle, using muzzle biometrics. The barcode-based identification system will help track vaccination records, health status, and insurance or death-related claims. This will act like Aadhaar card for cattle.

A first-of-its-kind initiative in India, the system is expected to replace traditional ear tags that require piercing of ears. The mechanism is now ready for pilot implementation.

In future, farmers may be able to upload photos of their cattle through the same system, enabling digital health assessment and faster access to government services.

Speaking to TNIE, Principal Secretary to Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (e-Governance), Pankaj Kumar Pandey said that the initiative would enable accurate identification of cattle through unique muzzle prints similar to human being's finger prints.

"The initiative will also help prevent fraud in livestock-related schemes and improve transparency in implementation," he said.

He also said this can be replicated across multiple grievance redressal and livestock management systems in the state.

Shreevyas HM, Project Director, Artificial Intelligence Cell, Centre for e-Governance (CeG), said ridges on a cattle's nose (muzzle) form a unique pattern of lines, bumps and furrows.

"The state has over one crore cattle population and it grows by over 10 lakh every year. At present, ear piercing is used to identify cattle. With AI-enabled digitalisation mechanism, identification will be easier," he said.

With this initiative, farmers will get SMS alerts on vaccination dates. The digital recording can be done for new born cattle too. "In future, health-related assessment of cattle can be done by scanning photos of muzzle," he said.

The AI-powered system is expected to strengthen digital governance in the animal husbandry sector while ensuring efficient tracking and authentication of livestock.

KEY OBEJCTIVES

- Replace conventional ear-tag systems
- Prevent fraud in livestock-related schemes
- Enable reliable identification of cattle

The headmaster of Kelur Higher Primary School in Mundargi taluk of Gadag district has come up with a novel idea to encourage rural students to take admission – Rs 1,000 fixed deposit in a bank account in the student's name. FAILED GUARANTEE

Gruha Lakshmi beneficiaries go to HC over dues

Arrears unpaid despite budgetary allocation and continuation of the scheme for 2025-26

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TWO beneficiaries of the 'Gruha Lakshmi' guarantee scheme have moved the Karnataka High Court, seeking directions to the state government to release the arrears for February and March of 2025. The petitioners pointed out that the amounts were not released despite Women and Child Development Minister Laxmi Hebbalkar admitting on the floor of the Legislative Assembly that payments had not been disbursed.

A vacation division bench of Justices Suraj Govindaraj and K Manmadha Rao on Thursday issued notice to the principal secretaries of the Finance Department, Panchayat Raj Department and Director of the Department of Women and Child Development, and posted the matter to June 4 to allow the state to file its response.

The court was hearing the petition filed by R Ganga and G D Pavithra, residing in the city, seeking an urgent hearing for the release of the arrears, Rs 2,000 each per month, which is given to the woman head of each household.

The petitioners stated that the arrears remain unpaid despite budgetary allocation and continuation of the scheme for 2025-26. This caused severe hardship to women dependent on the scheme for basic household expenses and livelihood, they stated. They requested the court to issue directions to the state to keep the money in an escrow account during the pendency of the petition.

The arrears amounted to Rs 5,000 crore. The root cause of the lapse lies in the decision taken in February to route payments under the scheme through taluk panchayats by way of Direct Benefit Transfer instead of through the Department of Women and Child Development. This transition delayed the payments, but the finance department did not carry forward the amount into the new financial year, resulting in the lapse of those instalments, the petitioners added.

The nonpayment has affected around 1.20 crore beneficiaries across the state, the petitioners alleged. Administrative lapses and failure to disburse the statutory benefits are a violation of the fundamental rights of beneficiaries guaranteed under Articles 14 and 21 of the Constitution, they argued.

K'taka ranks 5th in graft: Upa Lokayukta

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mandya

EXPRESSING serious concern over growing corruption in government departments, Upa Lokayukta B Veerappa said Karnataka has ranked fifth in corruption in the country and warned that failure to curb the menace could lead to dangerous consequences in the future.

Inaugurating a programme for hearing and disposal of pending cases from Mandya and Malavalli taluks at the Dr BR Ambedkar Bhavan in Mandya on Thursday, Justice Veerappa said corruption had spread across every department in the state administration.

The Upa Lokayukta was visiting Mandya district for the second time within a year to review pending complaints and cases. He expressed displeasure over the inability of district authorities to dispose of cases effectively.

"Merely giving assurances is not enough. Officials themselves must change," he said, stating that government officials must use their authority to ensure justice for the public and discharge their duties responsibly and sincerely.

Upalokayukta B Veerappa chairs a meeting in Mandya on Thursday | EXPRESS

He said everyone, from ordinary citizens to senior officials, should work with honesty and good intent. "India stands at the 91st position among 140 countries in corruption rankings, while Karnataka is placed fifth among Indian states. Both officials and citizens must change to eradicate corruption," he said.

Justice Veerappa revealed that 1,281 illegal or corruption-related cases had been detected across 16 districts in Karnataka. He warned officials to work honestly and with integrity, failing which action would be initiated against them.

Deputy Commissioner Kumar praised Justice Veerappa for his commitment against injustice and described him as a highly active and dedicated officer. He said Veerappa had disposed of nearly 30,000 cases during his judicial career and around 7,000 cases during his tenure in the Lokayukta institution.

Surprise inspection at Belur

Justice Veerappa conducted a surprise inspection at the Belur gram panchayat office in the taluk and reportedly uncovered several lapses in administration. He expressed anger against PDO Siddaraju and other staff members for failing to provide requested files and warned that a suo motu case would be registered against them.

The Upa Lokayukta spent more than an hour inspecting records, and found irregularities in the maintenance of property and e-khata records. Officials were unable to provide proper details regarding layouts and encroachments, drawing sharp rebuke from him.

He also observed apparent tampering of registers and noted that the PDO had not signed registers since October 2025. Justice Veerappa directed officials to issue notices to officials who fail to make themselves present even during the Lokayukta's visit.

Questioning the absence of the zilla panchayat deputy secretary and executive officer during the inspection, he slammed higher officials for failing to monitor the functioning of the gram panchayat.

World Bank visit to Karwar boosts K Shore project

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S @ Karwar

THE state government's K Shore programme – designed to curb marine pollution while simultaneously enhancing tourism and safeguarding marine life – has now gained momentum following a recent visit to Karwar by a team from the World Bank.

The government has submitted a proposal to the World Bank seeking assistance of Rs 850 crore to ensure a pollution-free coastline, free from plastic contamination.

The initiative is aimed at maintaining clean beaches, strengthening coastal livelihoods and local economies, and preventing plastic waste from entering the sea. Under the proposal, the state has requested Rs 588 crore from the World Bank (approximately 70 per cent), while the remaining Rs 252 crore (around 30 per cent) will be borne by the state government. Of the total funds, Uttara Kannada district has been allocated Rs 250 crore for implementation of multiple programmes.

Teen girl rescued after trying to jump from 5th floor terrace

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

PANIC gripped NRI Layout in Ramamurthy Nagar after a 16-year-old girl attempted to end her life by jumping from the fifth floor of an apartment building on Thursday morning. Fire and Emergency Services personnel, along with the police, rescued the girl, who is suspected to be mentally ill and undergoing treatment.

The police said that around 11.30 am, the girl had climbed to the terrace of the ground-plus-four-floor apartment building in NRI Layout and shouted that she would jump from there. Residents, who noticed the girl attempting to end her life, immediately alerted the Namma 112 and fire personnel. They also tried to convince her to climb down.

Fire personnel and police personnel, who rushed to the scene, climbed the apartment building and brought her down after struggling with her for a few minutes on the terrace. The girl, who resides far away from the apartment, entered the building as the gate was kept open.

The police added that, according to her family members, she was undergoing treatment at a hospital for mental illness, and family disputes may have led her to take the extreme step. However, the exact reason for the attempt is yet to be ascertained. The girl was shifted to NIMHANS for further treatment and counselling.

RTI activist Gangaraju was arrested by the police on Thursday after allegedly driving his car for nearly 500 metres with a man clinging to its bonnet. The victim, Dhananjaya, had reportedly approached Gangaraju seeking repayment of money owed to him. An argument broke out between the two during the discussion. The police said when Gangaraju attempted to drive away in his car, Dhananjaya tried to stop the vehicle and ended up hanging onto the bonnet

DUBARE TRAGEDY

'19 report warned against tourists going near jumbos

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE pressure of visitors and their proximity to elephants in camps needs to be checked as an influx of visitors was noticed at the Dubare and Sakrebyle elephant camps, read a report prepared by a committee constituted by the Karnataka High Court to evaluate the condition of elephants at camps in Karnataka.

"It is a good practice to allow visitors to come to the camp and see the animals at close quarters. However, the team felt that visitors were a shade closer to the elephants at Dubare. We would recommend instituting some restrictions and keeping the elephants slightly away from people's reach," the report read.

But these directions, issued in 2019, were never implemented. The ground staff at the forest department said they are not aware of any such report. The committee members, however, said that had the recommendations been implemented, the tragedy of a Tamil Nadu tourist getting crushed to death in a fight between two elephants on May 18 could have been avoided.

The 15-page report was prepared on the directions of the HC in 2019. The high court was hearing a PIL (WP 21570/2019) seeking a study of the condition of elephant camps, deaths of captive elephants and steps to be taken to improve the condition of the camps.

A three-member committee was constituted on the directions of the High Court that consisted of KM Chinnappa, retired forest officer and Trustee, Wildlife First, Dr Kalaivanan, veterinary assistant surgeon at Thevaram Veterinary Dispensary in Tamil Nadu, and Dr NVK Ashraf, senior director and chief veterinarian at the Wildlife Trust of India.

The committee members visited six elephant camps -- Mathigodu, Cauvery, Dubare, Balle, Rampura and Sakrebyle. They assessed the camps based on seven criteria -- their location, access to water body, infrastructure, welfare, health and management, husbandry and condition of animals. During the assessment, other factors, including visitor influx and proximity were also noted.

None of the elephant camps scored good marks in the committee's assessment. The average score of the camps was three on a scale of five. Dubare scored 3.5, but on infrastructure and health and management, it scored 2.5.

The report noted, "It is unfortunate that ground realities have forced the government to capture so many elephants and resign them to captivity. This has undoubtedly put undue pressure on the existing camps to accommodate them into their fold."

Forest, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar B Khandre said he was not aware of the report and no one informed him. "It has not even been brought to the notice of the government. The committee's recommendations were not implemented. This will be investigated," he added.

Asked who was responsible for the tourist's death in Dubare, Khandre said, "It was an accident. The matter is being investigated and a team has been sent to check the details."

Upa Lokayukta files case against 2 forest officials

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

UPA Lokayukta Justice KN Phaneendra has registered a suo motu case against assistant conservator of forests Gopal A, Somwarpet Sub-Division, and range forest officer Rakshit, Kushalnagar Territorial Range, Kodagu, in connection with the death of a tourist and an elephant at Dubare.

Juneshe S, 33, the tourist from Tamil Nadu, was crushed to death on May 18 after she was caught in a fight between two elephants at the elephant camp in Dubare. Marthanda, the elephant, succumbed to injuries sustained during the fight with Kanjan.

Justice Phaneendra said the incident was a result of 'failure' or 'inaction' on the part of forest officials. The incident indicates that there are many problems at the camp, which should be addressed immediately. He took media reports as source material for the suo motu case.

Stating that it is a violation of Article 21 concerning the right to life, Justice Phaneendra cited a verdict of the apex court in the Vincent Panikurlangara versus Union of India case, concerning the obligation on the part of officials in protecting people's lives.

Justice Phaneendra ordered the forest officials to submit their explanation in person by June 24.

Secure forest boundaries: Khandre to officials

Bengaluru: Forest, environment and ecology minister Eshwar B Khandre on Thursday directed forest officials to take back forest lands and secure forest boundaries. At a high-level meeting here, he said compensation should be paid to the affected people. He told the officials to get the forest lands fenced, particularly in areas near cities and towns, to prevent their encroachment. Forest lands must be recovered using CAMPA funds, he said. Khandre is said to have quoted Madenur forest adjacent to Hassan, where no afforestation work has been taken up though the land is in the department's possession. Khandre also directed the officials to set up a leopard task force in Tumakuru in view of the increasing number of attacks by the cats. With frequent sightings of leopards in many villages of Tumakuru district, there is a need for the task force to capture and relocate them, he said. ENS

Govt tightens rules to curb land grab

SUNIL PATIL @ Belagavi

IN a major move aimed at preventing land grabbing and fraudulent Rights, Tenancy and Crops (RTC) mutations, the Karnataka Revenue Commissionerate (KRC) has issued fresh directions regarding lands of which deceased owners (khatedar) are shown as having "No Legal Heirs" in the state's e-Pouthi software system.

The circular, issued by the KRC's Bhoomi Monitoring Cell in Bengaluru on May 20, 2026, has directed all deputy commissioners across the state to initiate strict action in cases where illegal RTC mutations are suspected. According to the order, during the Aadhaar linkage and e-Pouthi verification process, if village administrative officers record that a deceased landholder has no legal heir, the land concerned will automatically be flagged as "Government Reservation" in the system. Further, transactions related to such lands will be blocked in the Kaveri software to prevent illegal sale, transfer or registration.

The order also states that such cases will be transferred to Tahsildar Grade-1 courts through the Revenue Court Case Management System (RCCMS) and treated as disputed matters. Tahsildars have been instructed to issue public notices and conduct detailed inquiries. If no genuine heirs are identified even after inquiry, the land will be taken over by the government under the Karnataka Land Revenue Act, 1964.

Officials clarified that if legal heirs emerge later, they can approach the authorities, and the "Government Reservation" status can be revoked through orders issued by the assistant commissioners (revenue) of respective subdivisions. The move is being viewed as a significant step to curb increasing land grabbings reported in several districts, where land mafias allegedly collude with government officials to illegally enter their names in the RTC records by exploiting the absence of real owners or heirs.

Pvt unaided schools need not have SMCs: Centre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Union ministry of education has clarified that private schools, which do not receive government aid or grants, are exempted from having School Management Committees (SMC) mandated by the School Management Committee Guidelines – 2026.

Archana Sharma Awasthi, the additional secretary of the department of school education and literacy under the ministry of education, said on Thursday that the ministry had received concerns regarding the applicability of the guidelines to private unaided schools after a communication dated May 11 mentioned that SMCs should be formed in schools of all management types.

Awasthi said the mandate would not be binding to schools covered under Section 2(n)(iv) of the Right to Education (RTE) Act unless they receive financial assistance from the government or local authorities. However, the schools may voluntarily form SMCs to improve governance and transparency, she said.

The clarification came after objections were raised by the Associated Managements of Primary and Secondary Schools in Karnataka (KAMS), which submitted a representation to Sanjay Kumar, the secretary of the department of school education and literacy on May 15, seeking a corrigendum to the earlier letter.

TN COUNCIL OF MINISTERS

VIJAY'S CABINET SETS RECORD WITH SEVEN DALIT MINISTERS

23 legislators, including 2 from Congress, inducted in first cabinet expansion in new govt

Jegadeshwari K sworn-in as minister in the presence of CM CJ Vijay, Governor Rajendra Arlekar and Chief Secretary Sai Kumkar in Chennai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

IN his first cabinet expansion on Thursday, Tamil Nadu Chief Minister C Joseph Vijay inducted 23 legislators, including two from the Congress, into his council of ministers, marking the formation of one of the youngest ministries in the state's history. The TVK cabinet currently has 33 ministers, including the CM, and Tamil Nadu can have up to 35 ministers. IUML's Papanasam MLA AM Shahjahan and Vanni Arasu of the VCK will be sworn in ministers on Friday. Adi Dravidar & Tribal Welfare, and Minorities Welfare are the two major portfolios that remain to be allocated, and they are likely to be given to VCK and IUML, respectively.

TVK, which swept to power on the promise of 'social justice', among others, took a historic first step in making that a reality by appointing a record seven Dalit ministers to the cabinet. This marks the highest representation the community has ever received in Tamil Nadu's political history. The number is expected to rise to eight once the Viduthalai Chiruthaigal Katchi (VCK) joins the ministry. The new cabinet also includes four woman ministers and two ministers from the Brahmin community, marking a welcome departure from the jaded political formulas that typically dictate ministry formation in the state.

The new cabinet also reflects the social composition of the legislators of the ruling alliance, with TVK having 25 Dalit MLAs. While the TVK emerged victorious in 24 of the 44 reserved constituencies in the Assembly polls, five of the 13 MLAs from other parties supporting the government are also Dalits. Hence, 29 of the 120 MLAs backing the government (over 24%) are from the Dalit community.

Another notable shift from the usual composition of Tamil Nadu cabinets is the presence of two Brahmin ministers.

Former speaker quits AIADMK, son in cabinet

Former Assembly Speaker P Dhanapal on Thursday announced that he was no longer with the AIADMK. Speaking to reporters after attending the swearing-in ceremony of his son D Logesh Tamilselvan as a minister in the TVK-led cabinet, Dhanapal said he was sidelined by the AIADMK leadership after the demise of former chief minister J Jayalalithaa. Expressing happiness over his son becoming a minister, Dhanapal said he had held several positions in public life and felt proud to see his son rise to that level. "The future rests with the youth," he added.

HC seeks ECI response to plea against TVK

The Madras High Court has ordered notice to the Election Commission of India and a few political parties directing them to file their responses to a petition seeking a probe into the exploitation of children for indirect electoral gains by Tamilaga Vettri Kazhagam (TVK). A vacation bench of Justices GR Swaminathan and V Lakshminarayanan on Thursday granted a week's time for the respondents, including TVK, DMK and AIADMK, to file the reply. The petition was filed by L Vasuki, an advocate from Bhuavanagiri in Cuddalore district. She stated that TVK president C Joseph Vijay addressed a public meeting at YMCA grounds in Chennai on April 24 and called upon the "children to emotionally influence or pressure their parents" regarding voting preference in the elections.

DMK: Cong betrayed us, vanished from Pondy politics

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Puducherry

DMK leader and Puducherry state organiser R Siva on Tuesday launched a sharp attack on the Indian National Congress, alleging that the party "betrayed" the DMK during the recent Assembly elections and had subsequently "disappeared politically" in Puducherry.

Addressing the Puducherry DMK executive committee meeting held at a private hall on Kamaraj Salai, Siva sought to boost the party workers' morale following the election results.

Referring to the alliance negotiations in Puducherry, Siva accused the Congress of deliberately trying to weaken the DMK by denying it an adequate number of seats. He said the DMK had initially sought 15 seats, and later agreed to contest 13 while Congress retained 17. However, he alleged, Congress attempted to reduce the DMK's share to eight seats while fielding candidates in the remaining constituencies.

Siva said the DMK leadership chose to remain in the alliance despite disagreements to protect the larger political interests in Tamil Nadu. Despite the challenges, he said the DMK secured victory in five constituencies in Puducherry.

UDF to retain KL investment board, plans to curb its borrowing powers

UDF MLAs KK Rema, Vidya Balakrishnan, Bindu Krishna, Usha Vijayan, Shanimol Osmam and KA Thulasi are all smiles after the swearing-in ceremony in the Kerala Legislative Assembly in Thiruvananthapuram on Thursday | BP DEEPU

DESPITE years of criticising the Kerala Infrastructure Investment Fund Board (KIIFB), the newly elected UDF government is learnt to have decided against winding up the institution and instead plans to overhaul its funding model by curbing its independent borrowing powers. According to sources in the government, the move is intended to address long-standing concerns over off-budget financing and mounting public debt while retaining KIIFB as a vehicle for infrastructure development.

Under the proposed restructuring, KIIFB would no longer raise funds directly from financial markets. Instead, the state government is likely to borrow through development loans and transfer the funds to KIIFB in the form of grants or through a similar mechanism for executing infrastructure projects.

"When KIIFB borrows from the market, interest rates can go up to eight or nine per cent. If the state government raises development loans through the Reserve Bank route, borrowing costs could average around seven per cent," a senior government official said.

Officials pointed out that the centre's decision to classify KIIFB borrowings as state government debt had sharply reduced Kerala's borrowing headroom. The proposed shift, they said, is aimed at lowering financing costs and reducing pressure on the state's fiscal limits.Government sources indicated that dissolving KIIFB was ruled out largely because of the scale of projects already underway across the state.

"The development works undertaken through KIIFB at local and constituency levels have become unavoidable. Several projects remain incomplete and are being implemented even in constituencies represented by UDF MLAs. Restructuring is now the only practical option," a source said. The government is also considering ending the transfer of motor vehicle tax revenue and fuel cess collections to KIIFB. Leaders believe such a move could eventually allow a reduction in the petrol cess and provide marginal relief to consumers.

However, as KIIFB currently lacks an independent revenue stream, the government will have to devise a mechanism to service its existing liabilities.

Meanwhile, there are also indications that the UDF may revisit the proposal to introduce tolls on roads and bridges built under KIIFB – an idea previously considered by the LDF government but shelved amid public opposition.

IMD forecasts weak monsoon for Kerala

SHAINU MOHAN @ T'Puram

KERALA is staring at a weak monsoon season this year, with the India Meteorological Department (IMD) projecting rainfall at below 92% of the state's Long Period Average (LPA) of 1,863.4mm during the June-September southwest monsoon season. According to IMD, even June, the onset month, is expected to receive below normal rainfall, signalling a weak start to the rainy season.

Meanwhile, climate experts said the state needs to be prepared for both drought and extreme rain situations. The projection -- based on the LPA 1971-2020 -- was presented at 'Tracking the Monsoon: Kerala outlook 2026', a multi-sectoral climate preparedness dialogue organised in Thiruvananthapuram by the KSCSTE-Institute for Climate Change Studies (ICCS) in association with the IMD, Kerala State Disaster Management Authority, Directorate of Environment and Climate Change, and the Indian Meteorological Society. The LPA is the average rainfall or climate variable recorded over a specific region for a given interval, calculated over a long timespan.

O P Sreejith, scientist and head of climate monitoring and prediction at IMD, who presented the historical rainfall analysis during the session, said Kerala has consistently experienced deficient monsoon rain during El Nino years.

The Indian Ocean Dipole, another major climate driver that can sometimes offset El Nino impacts, is expected to remain neutral this season, offering little compensatory effect. The IMD has also forecast above-normal maximum and minimum temperatures across most parts of Kerala during May and June, raising concerns over heat stress, water availability, agriculture, and electricity demand. ICCS director K Rajendran said a detailed monsoon outlook statement based on the deliberations will be submitted to the government. "This year, we have a clear forecast on what to expect. El Nino has already been confirmed and the departments are going to prepare better," said Rajendran.

Norwester follows heat wave in Odisha, kills 3 in Keonjhar

BHUBANESWAR: A staggering heat wave scorched Odisha only to be followed by a deadly spell of norwester in four districts which claimed three lives on Thursday. Keonjhar bore the brunt as Naranpur, barely 6 km from the district headquarters town, was struck by tragedy after a tent collapsed, killing three persons. All the victims were workers. Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi announced an ex gratia of ₹4 lakh for family of each of the four deceased and expressed condolences. The norwester hit the area at around 3 pm, bringing down the huge tent. The workers were crushed under the iron frame of the tent after it collapsed under the might of the local storm. Earlier, Odisha saw one of the hottest days of the summer as 24 out of 38 stations of the state recorded above 40 degrees Celsius. Jharsuguda remained the hottest place with maximum at 45.5 degrees Celsius. Both Sambalpur and Balangir recorded 44.6 degree Celsius.

'Mass burial' case: SIT recreates crime scene in Dharmasthala

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

THE officials of the Special Investigation Team (SIT), along with personnel from the State Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL) and Scene of Crime Officers (SOCO), conducted a crime scene recreation exercise at Banglagudde in Dharmasthala on Thursday, as part of the ongoing probe into the alleged mass burial case.

The exercise was carried out at the location where former sanitation worker CN Chinnayya had earlier claimed to have found human remains. Chinnayya had alleged that multiple bodies were buried in the area and later submitted a skull reportedly recovered from Banglagudde to the authorities concerned.

Informed sources said that the investigators recreated the sequence of events relating to the recovery of the skull. The exercise reportedly included the re-enactment of the excavation carried out by Vittal Gowda, uncle of Sowjanya, the college student whose 2012 murder case drew widespread attention. The recovery process had allegedly been videographed by Pradeep Kulal at the time.

The SIT team documented the recreation process and collected inputs relevant to the investigation.

Officials from the forensic and crime scene units assisted in examining the site and reconstructing the circumstances surrounding the alleged recovery of the remains.

Chinnayya had approached the police alleging that several unidentified bodies had been buried in and around Dharmasthala. Based on his complaint, Dharmasthala Police registered a case on July 4 last year, following which the state government constituted an SIT to investigate the allegations.

An official associated with the investigation confirmed that the crime scene recreation was undertaken as part of the evidence-gathering process and to verify details provided during the course of the inquiry.

TREAT EXTREME HEAT AS AN EMERGENCY, URGENTLY INVEST IN LOCAL BODIES

A red-hot sickle has been scything through the heart of India for the past few days. It's an isothermal swathe of the country's hottest areas stretching across northern Rajasthan, Haryana, south-central Uttar Pradesh, eastern Madhya Pradesh and Vidarbha. Nowhere is its effect more acutely felt than in Banda, where temperatures have been breaching the debilitating level of 48°C. The reason this small town in Bundelkhand is overtaking Rajasthan as the country's hottest region is symptomatic of what's ailing the rest of India too—poorly planned construction and unchecked greed exacerbating the effects of climate change. In Banda, a steep fall in green cover and over-mining along the Ken riverbed have eroded the natural tools that could have countered the effects of a sudden proliferation of concrete structures in a new industrial cluster being promoted on a rocky plateau.

A similar fate awaits many other urban centres. A study published in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences, a highly regarded scientific journal, shows that 18 medium-sized Indian cities, including Jalandhar, Mathura and Muzaffarnagar, are heating up much faster than their hinterlands. Heedless human action and a lack of effective mitigation are also turning our metros into sweltering hotspots, with heat trapped in concrete and asphalt keeping night-time temperatures dangerously high. On Thursday, the national capital recorded its warmest May night in 14 years.

The reasons are not unknown. A study last year estimated that air conditioners are now as culpable for warming Indian cities as cars, with both affecting temperatures directly by generating heat and indirectly by adding to greenhouse gases. Yet, there is little public discourse on alternative lifestyles and an appalling lack of administrative urgency in increasing green cover, building water bodies, providing public shelters, expanding mass transport and changing building norms.

We must treat extreme heat as a national emergency in a country that is clearly among the worst affected. Graded heat action plans must be mandatorily triggered, like Delhi's court-mandated response to pollution. Parametric insurance, piloted by SEWA in Gujarat and proposed in Tamil Nadu, must be made widely available to daily wagers. Finally, much more needs to be invested in the local bodies responsible for urban planning. Our deficiency is revealed by a stark comparison: whereas almost two-thirds of Chinese government employees work at local levels, only a little over a tenth in India do so. Should we be surprised by the results?

CLEAR NORMS NEEDED FOR SAFER ELEPHANT CAMPS

THE conditions that led to the death of a tourist from Chennai at the popular Dubare elephant camp in Karnataka's Kodagu beg serious attention. The incident occurred when 26-year-old tusker Kanjan attacked a 56-year-old tuskless bull elephant, Marthanda, at the camp abutting the Cauvery. It caused the latter to fall and fatally crush the woman tourist, who, along with her husband and three-year-old daughter, was standing close to the elephants to watch them being bathed. Video grabs show the woman's husband making futile attempts at pulling her from under the 4,500-kg Marthanda with one hand while carrying the daughter in the other. The severely injured Marthanda, too, died later that day.

The absence of safety protocols and emergency facilities at Dubare and the other elephant camps is shocking—especially as these camps attract thousands of tourists, including women, children and the elderly, to watch the pachyderms being bathed, to play with them, and to get photographed with them. In a knee-jerk reactive measure, the state government has barred the entry of tourists into elephant camps until further orders, and constituted a committee to list standard operating procedures as safety protocols. There are plans not to allow tourists within 100 feet of the elephants. It must be heeded that only proactive measures and strict official accountability can prevent such tragedies.

The elephants in the 10 camps under the state forest department are trained and 'domesticated'. Yet, this tragedy exposed huge inadequacies in dealing with tourists' safety. Most captive elephants are captured and are known to exhibit unpredictable behaviour. The same Kanjan had run amok during rehearsals of the Mysuru Dasara festival a few years ago. Why, then, were tourists allowed near him? It must also be noted that Karnataka—which has 114 captive elephants in 10 camps, besides 31 with temples and mutts—hosts the largest wild elephant population in India, with 6,013 elephants, according to the first nationwide DNA-based census conducted by the Wildlife Institute of India last year, followed by Assam (4,159), Tamil Nadu (3,136), Kerala (2,785) and Uttarakhand (1,792). And human-elephant conflict is increasingly common in all these states.

As elephant populations grow due to conservation efforts and human habitats extend into wildlife domains, stringent safety protocols and standard operating procedures should be devised and implemented. Failing this, there will be little to prevent another such incident from claiming innocent lives.

QUICK TAKE

ONE WORLD, ONE DEFENCE

THE post-pandemic world remains perennially on a knife's edge. On Wednesday, an Air France flight headed to the US was redirected to Canada after it was determined that a passenger aboard was from the Democratic Republic of the Congo, which is facing travel restrictions due to a fresh outbreak of the deadly Ebola virus. The same day, while noting that the risk of a pandemic was low, the UN warned that the strain, which has claimed at least 131 lives, is moving fast. Not long ago, the world was fixated on a cruise liner struck by hantavirus. The uncoordinated responses from different nations reveal that we have not learnt the biggest lesson from the Covid19 catastrophe. Global health emergencies need countries to come together—what affects one could soon affect another.

A public health emergency linked to obesity may trip India on its way to being a developed nation. Nutritional security through fortification of crops can offer an alternative path

CANNOT BE VIKSIT WITHOUT ADEQUATE NUTRITION FOR ALL

K SRINATH REDDY
Chancellor, PHFI University of Public Health Sciences; and Chair, Centre for Universal Health Assurance, Indian School of Public Policy

INDIA endeavours to nourish and nurture a productive population with many years of 'healthy life expectancy' to propel the country to the aspirational goal of being Viksit Bharat by 2047. That's why adequate nutrition must be a major engine of this journey.

On the other hand, poor nutrition sets the nation back along the development path. It predisposes us to a host of diseases across the life course, while stealing health and sapping productivity. Thus, sagacious public policy must be geared towards protecting health and wellbeing across the life-course of the population. It must be guided by sound scientific research that generates evidence-informed, context-relevant, resource-optimising, culturally-adaptive and equity-promoting recommendations.

Nutrition is a key to good health across life cycles. Nutrition of the girl child, adolescent girl and newlywed woman will shape her health prior to pregnancy and the health of the child to be conceived. Nutrition during pregnancy will critically influence the physical growth of the child, while epigenetically programming metabolic processes that will determine risk of diabetes, cardiovascular diseases and even some cancers later in adult life.

For these reasons, Indian public policies and scientific research in the first six decades of independent India focused almost exclusively on the problems of undernutrition and anaemia in women and children. Micronutrient dietary deficiencies of iodine, iron and zinc also started attracting policy response.

However, overweight and obesity did not, alongside the associated problems of non-communicable diseases (NCDs). Principal among these were cardiovascular disease, diabetes and cancer—all of which were clearly linked to faulty nutrition through unhealthy diets. While excess body fat contributes to a high risk of these diseases, accumulation of fat in the abdomen—visceral adiposity—is especially dangerous in stoking widespread inflammation and vascular damage.

Overweight and obesity was for long dismissed as a problem of excess calorie consumption. The term 'over-nutrition', coined by nutritionists to differentiate it from 'undernutrition', was misleading. It ignored the fact that diets which resulted in obesity were often deficient in fibre and anti-oxidant rich fruit and vegetables, healthy fats (from sources like nuts, seeds and fish), while healthy edible oils were an overpriced, unaffordable option for the poor. It unfairly placed the odium for obesity on an individual's gluttony, rather than the quality of his diet and nutrition. This simplistic understanding of nutritional science led to economists and planners focusing on 'energy security' instead of 'nutrition security'.

SOURAV ROY

The rapid rise of NCDs threatens to extract a high toll of early deaths, prolonged disability, prohibitive healthcare costs, strained health system capacity and lost productivity—all of which can become potholes on the road to Viksit Bharat. Since most NCDs are nutrition-related, caused by diets which disturb many inter-related regulatory systems in the human body, greater attention now needs to be paid to this public health emergency approaching in slow motion.

Diet is what we eat and drink. Nutrition is what we get from it in a mix of chemicals. Our diet also feeds the trillions of bacteria which reside in our gut and constitute an individual's signature microbiome. These bacteria feed on dietary fibre that we cannot digest. In turn, they help us manufacture vitamins and boost our immunity. They also use the enteric nerve plexus and use the ladder of the long vagus nerve to influence brain function. When modern food systems which strip grains of fibre deprive the microbiome of their food, humans suffer adverse health effects.

Recently-unveiled scientific knowledge has brought home valuable lessons: nutrition has to be balanced through composite diets that can prevent both undernutrition and obesity; dietary diversity is essential, as is crop diversity which can enable dietary diversity; nutrient quality of crops depends on soil health, water quality and water security; seed quality; nutrients that enable plant growth and environmental conditions such as ambient temperature and atmospheric carbon dioxide levels.

While several of these requirements continue to be addressed through multi-sector policies, agricultural research in India has recently focused on ensuring scaled up production of nutrient rich, climate resilient crops. Bio-fortification has emerged as an important intervention to boost the nutrient content of crops.

Unlike food fortification, bio-fortification does not add nutrients to food items like salt, flour or milk. It aims to produce plants which can yield the right mix of nutrients at desired levels to support growth, good health and wellbeing. It is not subject to the market vagaries of production processes and pricing which impact the consumption of fortified foods. It also enables the plant to provide a right balance of multiple phytonutrients instead of a skewed supply that comes from selective food fortification.

Indian Agricultural Research Institute has undertaken innovative research in recent years to employ a variety of bio-fortification techniques to improve the zinc, iron and vitamin A content in commonly-consumed crops. Innovations include high-nutrient maize, wheat and vegetable varieties such as vitamin A-enriched carrots and iron-rich pearl millet, zinc-enriched wheat and protein-packed maize with higher yields.

While these innovations are exciting, science-led public policy demands evidence of the intended benefits. For that, IARI recently linked arms with the Indian Council of Medical Research to launch a purpose-driven partnership, SEHAT or Science Excellence for Health through Agricultural Transformation. Its key action areas include bio-fortification of crops; integrated farming systems (combining crops, livestock, fisheries and horticulture); agri-nutrition for NCDs; a 'One Health' approach and protection of farmers' health.

Even as these two scientific agencies work on estimating the health benefits of crops like pearl millets, pearls of wisdom from Union ministers linked ancient wisdom to contemporary challenges at the launch of SEHAT. Health Minister J P Nadda called for an effective response to the challenge of NCDs by coupling multi-sectoral interventions to integrated health systems which prioritise prevention, early detection and continuity of care. Agriculture Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan invoked the Ayurvedic canon of healthy nutrition: "Hith bhojan, mith bhojan, rithu bhojan." We await SEHAT to make this possible through validated dietary advice.

REALITY BENEATH THE GLASS CEILING

C K G NAIR
Former director, National Institute of Securities Markets

FINALLY there is some positive news on women on corporate boards beyond the stale stories or 'ought-to-be' thinking. A recent report, titled 'Women and Men in India 2025: Selected Indicators and Data' published by the Union ministry of statistics and programme implementation (MoSPI), is an eye-opener on many dimensions of India's gender divide. One heartening information is that women are finally catching up with men on company boards, though their progress on many other fronts continue to be slow.

Out of over 31.6 lakh directorships on the books, 28.7 per cent are now held by women. Almost a million women on boards is a proclamation of arrival, since for decades the gurus perpetuated a false narrative that there were not enough qualified women to adorn boards, particularly for listed companies with higher-order compliance requirements.

The MoSPI data covers all companies on the corporate affairs ministry register—listed and unlisted, big and small. The data also confirms that progress thins out at the senior management level below the board. While the share of women on boards stands over a quarter, it is still only about 17 percent in senior management, although a decent 29 percent share is maintained at other management levels. This appears to be a deliberate HR strategy of keeping women from breaking the glass ceiling and getting to the board.

Zoom in to the listed universe—the most visible and regulated, the one the gurus had loudest views about—and a sharper picture emerges. Prime Database's March 2026 report on the 2,285 NSE main-board listed companies puts hard numbers to it. As of February 2026, 98 percent of listed firms had at least a woman director, up from 97 percent a year earlier; 47 percent now have two or more, up from 35 percent in 2021; but only 88 percent have at least one independent woman director. Women hold 21 percent of all board seats (3,738 directorships held by 2,898 women), against 18 percent in 2021 and a mere 5 percent in 2014 when the regulation kicked in—a more-than-four-fold rise in just over a decade. Women now account for 28 percent of independent directorships, up from 17 percent in 2018.

Move one rung down from the board to actual executive authority and the picture changes. Women are only 14 percent of key managerial personnel, 10 percent of executive directors and just 5 percent of managing directors and CEOs—of the 130 women in those posts among 119 firms, 69 percent are from the promoter families. Only 6 percent of these companies have a woman board chair, and roughly half of those, too, are promoters. Among non-promoter executive directorships, women hold just 7 percent. Most of these new women directors are promoters of start-ups, with some catapulted to boards by promoter families.

GLIM

> A recent report showing the rising number of women on corporate boards busts a myth or two. But a closer look reveals a narrowed pool one rung below. The picture across public institutions, including the five Assemblies elected recently, is dismal

Still, that will give them the experience to be independent directors in other companies, including the big listed ones.

The MoSPI report tells a sobering story across institutions. In the higher judiciary, of the 1,122 sanctioned judicial positions, only 118 are held by women. The police are no better: women constitute only 10 percent of total officers nationally. The defence forces are starker—women account for just 8.31 percent of total personnel across the army, navy, air force, coast guard and the Defence Research and Development Organisation put together. As of 2025 women constitute just 13.65 percent of Parliament and hold a smaller 9.86 percent of ministerial portfolios. Even in the recently-elected legislative Assemblies of five states and a Union territory, out of 824 elected legislators, only 78 are women. Puducherry, a highly literate place, scored a dismal zero, though 40 women candidates were in the fray.

The lone bright spot is at the grassroots: women now account for 49.75 percent of elected Panchayat representatives. So, except local self-government where statutory reservation is the norm, representation of women falls far short of 33 percent.

Academics, chartered accountants, company secretaries, lawyers, engineers—practically every profession throws up capable women in large numbers. Yet most of them remain off the radars of director head-hunters and nomination and remuneration committees alike. The Prime Database numbers on listed firms confirm it: of every hundred non-promoter executive director seats, only seven go to women—the rest of the talent pool sits within the network of family connections and old-boy circuits. So much for talent search! And this, despite several studies showing that presence of a few women on board make a substantial difference to governance of the company.

Despite the unending condescending talk by all political parties and an attempted constitutional amendment, one-third reservation for women still remains a distant dream. Even when the goal is realised, it will seem like a charity to half the nation's people. It is an anachronism that they need affirmative action, that too after having become heads of governments.

It is high time that women get the full half of life's choices and opportunities; not as charity and reservation; but as a natural flowering of a gender-equal society, in tune with the times. Rising sons must not be at the cost of fading daughters. The corporate world becoming the guiding North Star sends a powerful signal. Though we are far from the 'Cinderella' becoming the 'Wonder Woman', gender-equal NIFTY 500 and 100 companies shall not be far away.

Hungry mouths

PM orders two-year reform agenda

Tells all ministers to create service delivery roadmap with clearly stated objectives, timelines

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

FILE

AMID speculation over a significant reshuffle of the Union Cabinet when the NDA government completes 12 years in office on June 7, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday chaired a crucial meeting of the Council of Ministers at Sewa Teerth in the national capital. The meeting focused on the government's core reform agenda and a range of other issues, including the impact of developments in West Asia on the Indian economy and the performance of key ministries in achieving reform targets over the past 11 months.

The meeting took place after Modi returned from five-nation tour after meeting top European and Saudi leaders.

This was the first major meeting of the full Council of Ministers since June 4, 2025. The marathon session continued for several hours and included multiple rounds of presentations by ministry officials on reforms, future roadmaps and other key issues central to Prime Minister Modi's vision of transforming India into a developed nation by 2047.

At the time of reporting, the meeting of the Council of Ministers, attended by all Ministers of State, senior officials, the Cabinet Secretary and others, was still underway.

According to sources, 13 secretaries from several key central ministries made presentations before the full Union Cabinet chaired by the prime minister. Detailed discussions reportedly took place on reforms in agriculture, railways, finance, energy, and several other crucial sectors as well as the impact of fast-changing geopolitics on the country's preparedness to deal with external challenges. The prime minister is learnt to have issued guidelines and directions on advancing the reform agenda to achieve the desired outcomes within a stipulated timeframe.

The Union government had earlier begun implementing "51 Reforms in all ministries in 51 weeks", and discussions were also held on this coordinated initiative covering the Railways and several other ministries. A review of ministerial performance was also undertaken, a process that often fuels speculation over a Cabinet reshuffle.

Sources indicated that the Modi government is likely to carry out a calibrated Cabinet rejig in certain ministries after June 15.

Sources said all aspects of governance were discussed during the Council of Ministers meeting, including policy execution, roadmaps for the next two years and the economic implications of the West Asia conflict. The prime minister reportedly told officials to stick to timelines efficiently

A senior source said discussions also covered the functioning of various ministries, key decisions taken and the outcomes achieved. The prime minister reportedly urged ministers to ensure the timely delivery of services and also discussed the government's priority areas going forward, which, observers feel, are at the core of governance logic championed by the prime minister across all his terms.

Describing Viksit Bharat 2047 as a national mission, the prime minister directed ministries to prioritise work that is swift, simplified and people-centric.

All ministries also submitted reports outlining reforms proposed for the next two years, along with reports highlighting the achievements of schemes implemented during the past 12 years. Prime Minister Modi also shared insights and outcomes from his recent five-nation official tour with members of the Council.

He further stressed that ministries and departments must work towards minimising inconvenience to citizens while implementing policies and reforms.

Key Pulwama attack plotter killed in Muzaffarabad, PoK

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

A key accused in the 2019 Pulwama terror attack, Hamza Burhan alias "Doctor", is learnt to have been killed in Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK), according to Indian intelligence officials. Burhan, identified as Arjumand Gulzar Dar from Pulwama in Jammu and Kashmir, was allegedly shot by unidentified gunmen in Muzaffarabad, sustaining multiple bullet injuries that proved fatal, they said.

Burhan had been designated a terrorist by the Union Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) in 2022 under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA), following findings by the National Investigation Agency (NIA) in its probe into the Pulwama attack.

The February 14, 2019 suicide bombing at Lethpora in Pulwama district killed 40 CRPF personnel after a Jaish-e-Muhammad (JeM) operative rammed an explosives-laden vehicle into a security convoy, making it one of the deadliest terror strikes on Indian forces.

Investigators had alleged that Burhan played a crucial logistical role in the attack by supplying explosives and grenades to the terrorists involved. He was also accused of involvement in a grenade attack on CRPF personnel in November 2020.

Security officials said Burhan, a resident of Kharbatpora in Pulwama's Ratnipora area, had crossed over to Pakistan in 2017 under the pretext of pursuing higher studies. But, he allegedly joined the banned terror outfit Al-Badr and rapidly rose through its ranks to become a commander.

According to intelligence sources, Burhan later returned to Kashmir, where he was involved in radicalising and recruiting youth, while expanding his network across South Kashmir, particularly in Pulwama and Shopian districts. Following increased counter-terror operations, he reportedly fled back to PoK, where he had been operating.

His death is the latest in a series of mysterious killings of terrorists and senior commanders linked to Pakistan-based terror outfits, including Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT), Jaish-e-Muhammad and Hizbul Mujahideen. Several such operatives designated by India under the UAPA have been targeted by unidentified attackers in Pakistan and PoK over the past two years.

Last month, Amir Hamza, considered a founding member of LeT, was reportedly shot by unidentified bike-borne assailants in Lahore. In March, Muhammad Tahir Anwar, elder brother of JeM chief Masood Azhar, died under what were described as mysterious circumstances in Pakistan.

In another high-profile case last year, Abu Qatal, a senior LeT operative and close associate of 26/11 Mumbai attacks mastermind Hafiz Saeed, was gunned down in Pakistan's Jhelum region. Qatal was allegedly linked to the 2024 Reasi terror attack in Jammu and Kashmir that left nine people dead.

Sabotage behind railway accidents, says report

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

INDIAN Railways has intensified investigations into a series of recent train fire incidents after preliminary probes suggested the possible involvement of anti-social elements. Railway law enforcement agencies, along with senior railway officials, are continuing investigations to determine whether organised attempts are being made to sabotage railway services following multiple incidents involving fires on trains and railway premises.

Amid the recent incidents, Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw on Thursday chaired a high-level security review meeting with senior railway field officials. During the meeting, the minister directed authorities to strengthen intelligence-gathering efforts by improving the use of modern technology and better coordination between field units and the Railway Board headquarters.

Security agencies and the Railway Protection Force have launched an extensive investigation after CCTV footage captured a suspicious incident at Howrah station near the cab road area. According to officials, the footage allegedly showed a suspect throwing an object that immediately burst into flames during peak passenger hours, raising concerns among authorities over passenger safety and security at railway stations.

The incident at Howrah station occurred shortly after intelligence inputs and warnings indicated that the railway network could be vulnerable to sabotage attempts. One of the most serious recent incidents involved an inflammable object allegedly being thrown near the taxi stand area at Howrah station shortly before a fire was reported in one of the coaches of the Mithila Express. Preliminary investigations and reviews of CCTV footage in several other fire-related incidents also indicated that some of the fires appeared to have been deliberately set.

The Railway Ministry stated that advanced technologies, including AI-enabled systems, drones and enhanced CCTV surveillance, are being deployed to improve passenger safety and strengthen protection of railway infrastructure. The meeting was convened following several incidents, including train fires, for which preliminary investigations pointed to possible involvement by anti-social elements.

In an official statement issued after the meeting, the ministry said it would use the latest surveillance technologies and AI-based systems to strengthen railway safety measures. Officials from railway zones across the country participated in consultations held in the national capital in the presence of senior ministry officials.

The Railways stated that prompt action by railway personnel in several cases helped avert major incidents. Authorities also stressed the need to strengthen intelligence systems, improve technology-driven monitoring, expand CCTV coverage and encourage passengers to remain alert.

The Railways has appealed to passengers to immediately report suspicious activities or individuals through the railway helpline number 139.

'Need accused nod for courts to hear sedition cases'

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday said that courts can hear trials pertaining to Section 124-A of the Indian Penal Code, which relates to sedition, if the accused has no objection to it.

The clarification from a bench comprising Chief Justice Surya Kant and Justices Joymalya Bagchi and Vipul M. Pancholi came during the hearing of a plea by an accused who has been in jail for 17 years in a sedition case.

"The petitioner's grievance is that he has no objection if his criminal appeal is heard in its entirety, including with respect to the charge under Section 124-A. That being so, we clarify... that wherever the accused has no objection against the proceeding of the trial, appeal, or any other proceeding where he has been chargesheeted under Section 124-A IPC, also, there shall be no impediment for the courts to decide such matters on merits and in accordance with law," the bench said.

The apex court asked the Madhya Pradesh High Court to hear the petitioner's appeal and decide the same on merit. The appeal filed by the accused is pending before the Madhya Pradesh High Court.

In a landmark order passed on May 11, 2022, the apex court had put the penal provision on sedition on hold till the Centre completed its promised review of the colonial-era relic and also asked the Union and state governments not to register any fresh cases invoking the offence. It had also directed that the ongoing probes, pending trials, and all proceedings under the sedition law would be kept in abeyance nationwide.

The offence of sedition, which was included in section 124A of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) in 1890, has been under intense public scrutiny.

BCI moves SC for women's representation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Bar Council of India (BCI) has moved the Supreme Court seeking approval for a merit-based "co-option" mechanism to ensure 30% women's representation in state bar councils. The BCI has proposed to fill a 10% co-option quota by selecting women candidates who have secured the highest number of votes among those not elected, rather than through subjective appointments.

The proposal aims to complement the 20% seats reserved for women through direct election, bringing the total representation to the 30% mandate previously set by the apex court.

BCI chairperson and senior advocate Manan Kumar Mishra, in a statement, said the bar body has considered the submissions made by stakeholders before the apex court.

Vande Mataram made mandatory at all WB-recognised madrasas as well

SUBHENDU MAITI @ Kolkata

MANDATORY singing of Vande Mataram is not just confined to schools in West Bengal, the fiat extends to all madrasas that are sponsored, aided and recognised by the state government as well.

The West Bengal Directorate of Madrasa Education issued a directive on May 19 to district magistrates, secretary of West Bengal Board of Madrasa Education and other offices related to madrasa education directing them to implement the singing of Vande Mataram in all madrasas during morning assembly prayers mandatorily with immediate effect.

"Singing of Vande Mataram will henceforth be mandatory in all recognised madrasas as well. Why should it not be mandatory in madrasas at a time when other recognised schools in the state do the same?" wondered Khsudiram Tudu, state minority affairs and madrasa education minister. The BJP government had on May 14 directed its mandatory singing during assembly prayers in all institutions under the school education department.

27 Maoists lay down arms in J'khand, biggest in a day

Police say 25 of the surrendered members are top area commanders

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

IN a major breakthrough, 27 Maoists surrendered before senior police officials at the Jharkhand Police Headquarters on Thursday. The surrendered cadres included six Sub-Zonal Committee members, six Area Committee members, and 13 squad members.

According to police headquarters, 25 of the 27 Maoists, are top commanders and members of the 'strike squad' belonging to teams led by Central Committee members, Misir Besra (alias Sagar Ji) and Asim Mandal. All of them were active in the Kolhan and Saranda regions of the state.

Additionally, two Maoists, active in the JJMP organisation within the Gumla district. also laid down their arms.

Among the surrendered Maoists, a total bounty of ₹33 lakhs had been declared on 8 individuals. Several serious criminal cases are registered against all of them. DGP Tadasha Mishra said that twenty-seven Maoists, wanted in a large number of cases, surrendered before the police under 'Operation Navjeevan'. "I must assure to those who laid their arms today that the way they are being welcomed today, proper care will be taken of them in future also," said the DGP.

Very few Naxals left in Saranda, Kolhan forests: SP

When asked about the number of Maoists still left in Saranda and Kolhan jungles of West Singhbhum, the SP said, "All I can say that a very few numbers of Maoists are left in Saranda. We are working on it and also getting constant inputs and operations are being conducted."

According to the police officials, this mass surrender signals the weakening of Naxal activities within the state. Police officials said that the Maoists now are under pressure due to continuous operations and strict enforcement actions. Driven by internal exploitation and intimidation within the CPI (Maoist) organisation, as well as the police's relentless and mounting pressure, many Maoists are choosing to rejoin the mainstream, they said.

These surrendered Maoists will be provided with benefits under the government's rehabilitation policy, enabling them to return to the social mainstream, they said.

Police officials termed it a historical day, and are hopeful that the Naxal problem will come to an end very soon in Saranda region, the only Maoist stronghold left in Jharkhand. "This is the historic day that a large number of Maoists have surrendered today. This will be a turning point in the history of this state in the Naxal scenario. We expect that after this the Naxal problem will take a turn and soon come to an end," said West Singhbhum SP Amit Renu.

Detained parent arrested in NEET exam paper leak case, more under scanner

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE CBI has arrested Latur-based paediatrician Dr Manoj Shirure in connection with the NEET-UGC 2026 examination paper leak scam for allegedly purchasing leaked questions for his son, who was preparing for the medical entrance test. The arrest marks the first instance of a parent being taken into custody in the widening investigation into the NEET-UGC 2026 paper leak case.

According to investigators, Dr Shirure allegedly bought the leaked question paper from Latur-based RCC Classes founder Shivraj Motegaonkar before the May 3 examination. The scandal has exposed an alleged nexus involving coaching institutes, leaked examination material and parents desperate to secure seats for their children.

The CBI probe revealed that several influential parents allegedly paid between ₹5 lakh and ₹10 lakh to retired chemistry professor PV Kulkarni and Motegaonkar to obtain the examination paper in advance. Dr Shirure is among them.

Investigators are also examining the roles of several other parents and students in Maharashtra suspected of involvement in procuring leaked NEET-UGC 2026 papers.

The probe further found that 43 of the 45 chemistry questions in the final NEET-UGC 2026 examination allegedly matched questions circulated earlier through RCC's guess paper. Investigators cited a viral video in which Motegaonkar reportedly told faculty members that questions given during mock tests ten days before the examination appeared unchanged in the final paper, including numbers and formats.

The CBI alleged that Motegaonkar conducted special night classes for selected students in Latur, where handwritten question papers and answer sheets were distributed for practice. Investigators are also probing the money trail, communication records, and financial transactions linked to the alleged paper-leak network.

Sharma's Gram Vikas Chaupals spark buzz

As the heat scorches Rajasthan and most people look for cool comfort, CM Bhajanlal Sharma is visiting villages to listen to people's grievances and issue on-the-spot directives to officials to resolve their problems. Through these 'Chaupals' (village gatherings), the CM is also taking stock of the ground reality of various schemes. After one such Chaupal in the tribal Banswara district, he also had a meal at the home of a local resident, Gattulal Yadav. The CM has held 'Gram Vikas Chaupals' in Pratapgarh, Sikar, Banswara, Ajmer, Jalore, and Jaipur so far. Besides meetings with officials, the CM also goes on walking tours to interact with villagers.

No crowd at Shekhawat statue ceremony

The ceremony to unveil the statue of former Vice President Bhairon Singh Shekhawat in Jodhpur has created a row. Though Shekhawat was called an 'Ajatshatru' (one without enemies) in Rajasthan politics, the function to commemorate his memory fell victim to internal dissent and organisational failure. The empty chairs and dismal turnout at the gathering have become a topic of discussion in the state. The BJP's top brass was displeased by the failure to draw crowd and summoned the district organisation to Jaipur. Defence Minister Rajnath Singh also expressed his displeasure in the presence of CM Bhajanlal Sharma.

Rajasthan in top place in global tobacco rankings

Discussions on rankings in the fields of development, infrastructure, or tourism are a frequent occurrence but this time Rajasthan has grabbed an international distinction that has made India proud on the global stage. Based on the unconventional, grassroots-level work undertaken in the fields of tobacco control and de-addiction during the 2025-26 period, the WHO has placed Rajasthan in the top position across the entire continent. Amidst rigorous scrutiny and strict criteria for the 'World No Tobacco Day Award 2026', Rajasthan's Department of Medical and Health has secured the first place (Rank 1) in the South-East Asia Region.

In a first, Bihar creates post of IG to man border

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

AMID Union home minister Amit Shah's push for heightened security along border ditrsitcs in states including Bihar, the state government has created a separate post of Inspector General (IG), Border, in order to strengthen security along the state's international and inter-state borders by improving patrolling and developing intelligence gathering mechanism.

The new post has been created in the state for the first time. A proposal in connection with this was approved in a cabinet meeting chaired by Chief Minister Samrat Choudhary on Wednesday evening.

Arvind Kumar, additional chief secretary, cabinet secretariat department, said that the new post will help intelligence agencies maintain strict vigilance along the Nepal border.

The development comes a week after chief secretary Pratyaya Amrit chaired a high-level meeting with top police officers and intelligence agencies to take stock of the situation in districts along the India-Nepal border. He had directed the removal of encroachments on 'No Man's land'.

On February 24 this year, Shah visited Kishanganj district to lead a high-level review meeting on border security.

If crowds swell, staggered timings for namazis at Eidgahs, say clerics in UP

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

IN response to UP CM Yogi Adityanath's recent remarks that Namaz should be offered at designated places and not on roads or public places causing inconvenience of general public, several Muslim clerics have said that the prayers on upcoming Eid-ul-Azha would be offered inside the mosques and Eidgahs like in previous years.

They said that if the number of Namazis exceed the capacity of mosques or Eidgahs, arrangements could be made for multiple prayer shifts.

Addressing an event in Lucknow recently, CM Yogi had said that namaz should be offered inside mosques and other designated places instead of public spaces like roads. He had also suggested that if there was a large gathering, prayers could be offered in shifts as when Namaz was offered on roads, it leads to traffic snarls and inconvenience to people.

According to prominent Muslim cleric Maulana Khalid Rasheed Firangi Mahali who is also a senior executive member of the All India Muslim Personal Law Board (AIMPLB) and chairman of Indian Islamic Centre, said that like every year, this year also, extensive preparations are on in mosques and Eidgahs for Eid-ul-Adha on May 28.

Maulana Firangi Mahali said that arrangements for offering namaz in multiple shifts could be made if needed, provided each congregation had a separate Imam.

The cleric claimed that Muslims had been offering prayers inside mosques and Eidgahs for years and had always followed law and order because namaz was not only an act of worship, but it also taught discipline.

By avoiding prayers on roads for years, Muslims had demonstrated that they were a disciplined and civilised community, added the cleric.

Referring to CM Yogi's remarks, Maulana Firangi Mahali said: "We expect the government to apply the same rules to all communities. Ideally, no community should organise processions or gatherings on roads."

Twisha's husband on the run, seeks bail; dad too moves HC

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

LEGAL developments in the alleged dowry death case of 33-year-old ex-model and actor Twisha Sharma shifted from Bhopal to Jabalpur on Thursday. Multiple petitions were moved before the Madhya Pradesh High Court. Twisha's absconding husband, Samarth Singh, filed an anticipatory bail plea before the High Court's principal bench after a Bhopal court denied him relief on May 18. His counsel, Mrigendra Singh, said the matter could be heard next week by the vacation judge.

The senior advocate also advised Samarth Singh and his mother, former judge Giribala Singh, to seek a CBI probe. Singh said, "The way Twisha's family is baselessly accusing my clients of trying to influence the investigations in the case and misusing official machinery, it's best that we should ourselves petition the HC to order a CBI probe in the matter. While Giribala Singh received anticipatory bail on May 17, Samarth has remained untraceable since bail was denied.

Twisha's father, Navnidhi Sharma, has approached the High Court seeking cancellation of Giribala Singh's anticipatory bail. The family is also preparing a petition seeking a second post-mortem at AIIMS-Delhi. Earlier, a JMFC court in Bhopal dismissed a similar plea on jurisdictional grounds. However, the court directed police to preserve the body at minus 80 degrees Celsius. Samarth's counsel argued there was no legal provision for a revised post-mortem under the old CrPC or the new BNSS, except in extraordinary circumstances.

Twisha's family also plans to seek preservation and forensic protection of digital evidence linked to at least 46 mobile phone numbers. They alleged some numbers were connected to the judiciary circles and were in contact with the accused after Twisha's death.

Meanwhile, the CID has initiated the process to transfer the SIT investigation to the CBI under the Delhi Special Police Establishment Act. This came a day after CM Dr Mohan Yadav assured the family of support for a CBI probe.

The MP government has also initiated an inquiry against Giribala Singh, who heads the Bhopal-2 District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission. This move is being seen as the start of the process to remove her from the quasi-judicial body. Police said she had not yet recorded her statements. Her legal team, however, maintained she would cooperate with investigators.

Inquiry initiated against victim's mother-in-law

The state food, civil supplies and consumer protection department has initiated an inquiry against Giribala Singh, currently president of the Bhopal-2 District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission, a move seen as the beginning of proceedings to remove her from the body.

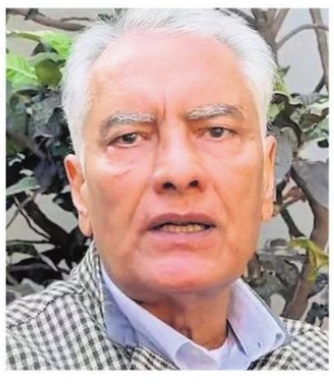
Reshuffle likely, Sikh may head BJP in Punjab

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

WITH the 2027 Punjab Assembly elections less than a year away, the BJP is expected to appoint a new president for its Punjab unit, as the three-year tenure of current chief Sunil Jakhar ends in July. As part of its preparations for the polls, the party is likely to choose a Sikh face for the post.

Sources said the announcement could come in by the end of this month or early next month. Until then, Jakhar is expected to continue leading the campaign.

Among the names being discussed are Union Minister of State for Railways Ravneet Singh Bittu, grandson of former Chief Minister Beant Singh, who joined the BJP after leaving the Congress; former Finance Minister Manpreet Singh Badal, cousin of Shiromani Akali Dal president Sukhbir Singh Badal; and Jagmohan Singh Raju, a former bureaucrat who entered politics in 2022 and now serves as Punjab BJP general secretary.



Hindu leaders also being considered for post

Party leaders believe choosing a Sikh president is politically necessary, but Hindu leaders are also not completely out of the picture. Senior BJP leader Tarun Chugh, who has long handled the party's affairs in Punjab, is also believed to be under consideration for the post.

Other names in contention include Kewal Dhillon, who joined the BJP after resigning from the Congress. His candidature is reportedly being backed by former Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh. Senior BJP leader Manjit Singh Rai from Ferozepur is also emerging as a strong contender because of his organisational experience and grassroots support in the Malwa region. Rajya Sabha MP and Chandigarh University founder Satnam Sandhu, former minister Rana Gurmeet Sodhi, and former MLA Fateh Jung Singh Bajwa are also being considered.

Sources said Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Saini, who has been attending party programmes in Punjab, is also pushing for a Sikh face.

After its victory in West Bengal, where it defeated Mamata Banerjee's party by winning 207 of 290 seats, the BJP has now turned its focus to Punjab, where it has traditionally struggled.

Party leaders believe choosing a Sikh president is politically necessary, as the Sikh community remains dominant in the state and Punjab has always had a Sikh chief minister. At the same time, Hindu leaders are also not completely out of the picture, and senior BJP leader Tarun Chugh, who has long handled the party's affairs in Punjab, is also believed to be under consideration for the post.

'Lights, camera, arrest'! Life convict Bollywood actor nabbed in Gujarat

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

THE Crime Branch of Gujarat Police has arrested a fugitive murder convict who spent the last 12 years living as a struggling actor in Bollywood. Hemant Modi was sentenced to life imprisonment in a 2005 murder case and was serving a jail term when in jumped parole in 2014. The police say he changed identities and moved to Mumbai, where he acted in more than 40 films, serials, and plays.

Modi shared screen space with top Bollywood names in this period and acted in films like "Thugs of Hindostan", starring Amitabh Bachchan and Aamir Khan, and "Jayeshbhai Jordaar", which featured Ranveer Singh. He also worked in Gujarati cinema, theatre productions, and web series, in which he acted alongside popular names like Hitu Kanodia and Hiten Kumar.

Sources said Modi was involved in a scuffle in the Naroda area of Ahmedabad in 2005, when a seemingly minor dispute over placing a ladder on a road spiralled into street violence. Hemant Modi, along with his brother Sachin Modi and five friends, attacked one Narendra Kamble during the clash. Kamble was killed, for all seven were sentenced to life imprisonment in 2008.

Hemant was lodged in the Mehsana jail. According to investigators, prison life shattered him emotionally. He reportedly told his wife that his entire life would now end behind bars. The relationship collapsed soon after, ending in divorce. Hemant allegedly began plotting a second life and got an opportunity in 2014, when he was released on 30-day parole.

Hemant jumped the parole, fled Gujarat, and started living in Mumbai under different identities, including Spandan Modi and Twinkle Dave. His dramatic escape ended after the Crime Branch received intelligence inputs suggesting Hemant Modi had quietly been visiting Ahmedabad. Acting on the tip-off, officials launched technical surveillance and monitored his movements. After days of tracking, the Crime Branch laid a trap near Ghee Kanta Metro Station, where Hemant was finally detained.

Pakistan's army chief to visit Iran to mediate new US-Gulf proposal

Munir's visit comes a day after Donald Trump said talks to stop the war were not fructifying

DUBAI

PAKISTAN'S army chief was due in Iran Thursday, Iranian media reported, with Islamabad mediating as the Islamic republic examines a new US proposal to end the Middle East war.

The expected visit by Field Marshal Asim Munir, a powerful figure with a growing role in Pakistan's foreign relations, comes a day after US President Donald Trump warned that negotiations to end the war were on the "borderline" between a deal and renewed strikes.

A ceasefire on April 8 halted the war launched weeks earlier by the US and Israel, but negotiation efforts have so far failed to yield a lasting peace agreement.

A war of words has taken the place of open conflict but the impasse continues to weigh on the world economy, leaving everyone from investors to farmers in a painful state of uncertainty. On Thursday, Iran's ISNA news agency said Munir's visit was aimed at continuing "talks and consultations" with Iranian authorities, without providing details. Other Iranian media carried the same report.

Iran negotiator Mohd Ghalibaf

WAR WATCH

Pakistan hosted in April the only direct negotiations between US and Iranian officials to take place since February 28, the day the war began.

Munir was at the centre of the action during that round of talks, greeting both delegations on their arrival and displaying remarkable bonhomie with US Vice President JD Vance.

But the talks ultimately failed, with Iran accusing the US of making "excessive demands".

Since then, the two sides have sent each other multiple proposals, with the threat of renewed war looming all along.

"It's right on the borderline, believe me," Trump told reporters Wednesday. "If we don't get the right answers, it goes very quickly. We're all ready to go."

He said a deal could come "very quickly" or "in a few days", but warned Tehran would have to provide "100 percent good answers".

Tehran's chief negotiator Mohammad Bagher Ghalibaf on Wednesday accused Washington of seeking to restart the war, warning of a "forceful response" if Iran were to be attacked.

"The enemy's movements show that despite economic and political pressure, it has not abandoned its military objectives and is seeking to start a new war," Ghalibaf said.

Iran's foreign ministry spokesman Esmaeil Baqaei said the Islamic republic was examining points received from Washington, while repeating Tehran's demands for the release of its assets and an end to a US naval blockade. AFP

Enriched uranium 'must remain' in Iran, says Mojtaba

TEHRAN

IRAN'S Supreme Leader has issued a directive that the country's near-weapons-grade uranium must not be sent abroad, two senior Iranian sources said, hardening Tehran's position on a key US demand in ongoing peace talks.

Ayatollah Mojtaba Khamenei's order could further frustrate US President Donald Trump and complicate talks on ending the US-Israeli war on Iran.

Israeli officials have told Reuters that Trump has assured Israel that Iran's stockpile of highly enriched uranium, needed to make an atomic weapon, will be sent out of Iran and that any peace deal must include a clause on this.

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has said he will not consider the war over until enriched uranium is removed from Iran, Tehran ends its support for proxy militias, and its ballistic missile capabilities are eliminated.

"The Supreme Leader's directive, and the consensus within the establishment, is that the stockpile of enriched uranium should not leave the country," said one of the two Iranian sources, who spoke on condition of anonymity because of the sensitivity of the matter.

Iran's top officials, the sources said, believe that sending the material abroad would leave the country more vulnerable to future attacks by the United States and Israel. Khamenei has the last say on the most important state matters.

The White House and Iran's foreign ministry did not respond to requests for comment.

Iranian officials have repeatedly said Tehran's priority is to secure a permanent end to the war and credible guarantees that the US and Israel will not launch further attacks.

Only after such assurances are in place, they said, would Iran be prepared to engage in detailed negotiations over its nuclear programme. Tehran has long denied seeking a nuclear bomb.

But highly-placed sources said that position changed after repeated threats from President Donald Trump to launch strikes on Iran. AP

Democrats eye breakthrough as House takes Iran war vote

WASHINGTON

THE House is expected to vote on legislation Thursday to compel President Donald Trump to withdraw from the war with Iran, a significant test of lawmakers' willingness to go along with a conflict the president launched over two months ago without congressional approval.

The vote is the latest effort by Democrats to rein in Trump's military campaigns by using the War Powers Resolution of 1973. Previous votes on similar resolutions have failed, but Democrats are hoping that Thursday could be a turning point.

One by one, a small but potentially crucial number of Republicans have sided with Democrats to check Trump's power to continue the conflict. On Tuesday, the Senate advanced another war powers resolution on the Iran war when four GOP senators supported the resolution and three others were absent from the vote.

A final vote on the Senate resolution could also come late Thursday, though Republican leaders expect they'll be able to block it once every GOP senator is present.

On Capitol Hill, patience with the war has grown thin as the stalemate in the Strait of Hormuz disrupts global shipping and elevates gas prices in the US. Another House war powers resolution nearly passed last week, falling on a tie vote as three Republicans voted in favor. Democratic Rep. Gregory Meeks of New York, who sponsored the war powers resolution, said he expects the votes this time around. AP

UN: Right to strike always protected by labour treaty

THE HAGUE

THE United Nations' top court issued a landmark advisory opinion on the right to strike on Thursday, finding that a cornerstone labour treaty protects the ability of workers to walk off the job.

The International Court of Justice was asked in 2023 by the International Labour Organisation, a UN agency, to settle an internal dispute over whether one of the ILO's conventions gives workers the right to strike.

Advisory opinions aren't legally binding but carry significant weight. The decision could have a worldwide impact on labour regulations, enshrining the right to strike in labour standards and international trade agreements.

The convention has been ratified by 158 countries and is incorporated into UN labour standards, guidelines from the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development and international trade agreements. The United States is a member of the ILO, but hasn't ratified the convention.

A number of UN agencies can ask the ICJ to weigh in on legal questions and issue advisory opinions. Last year, the court said in a landmark advisory opinion that countries could be in violation of international law, if they fail to take measures to protect the planet from climate change.

Israel begins deporting hundreds of flotilla activists amid EU outcry

TEL AVIV

ISRAEL said on Thursday it had deported all the foreign activists seized by Israeli forces from a Gaza-bound flotilla, following global outcry over their treatment in custody.

More than 430 activists from countries around the world had been placed in detention in Israel after they were intercepted at sea on Monday while making the latest in a string of attempts to break the blockade of the Palestinian territory.

Israel's far-right National Security Minister Itamar Ben Gvir sparked widespread condemnation and diplomatic backlash on Wednesday by posting a video showing the detained activists with their hands tied and foreheads on the ground.

Israel's foreign ministry spokesman, Oren Marmorstein, said on Thursday that "all foreign activists from the PR flotilla have been deported from Israel." "Israel will not permit any breach of the lawful naval blockade on Gaza," he added.

The legal centre representing the activists said earlier on Thursday that the majority of the flotilla members were "en route for deportation" from Ramon Airport in Israel's far south.

In a statement, Adalah added that the activists had been held at Israel's Ktziot prison, in the Negev Desert near Gaza.

Turkey had announced it was sending planes to Israel to "bring our citizens and participants from third countries to Turkey via special charter flights we will organise today".

Foreign ministry sources said "three flights" with a capacity for "more than 400 passengers" were being sent to Ramon airport.

A spokesman for Adalah said activists from Egypt had been transferred to Taba at Egypt's border with Israel, while those from Jordan had been transferred to Aqaba. AP

Air France, Airbus found guilty of manslaughter over 2009 crash

PARIS

A French appeals court Thursday convicted Air France and Airbus of involuntary manslaughter over the 2009 crash of a Rio-Paris flight that killed 228 people, the worst disaster in France's aviation history.

The Paris Court of Appeal ruling was a dramatic reversal of a lower court decision.

The appeal court said that the French flag carrier and Europe's leading aerospace manufacturer were "solely and entirely responsible for the crash of flight AF447", ordering each to pay 225,000 euros ($261,000) -- the maximum fine for corporate manslaughter.

While the penalties are symbolic, the ruling is seen as significant reputational damage for both companies.

Air France and Airbus have consistently denied any criminal liability, blaming pilot error.

The lower court ruling acquitted them in 2023, finding that the companies had made mistakes but could not be proven to have caused the crash.

But on Thursday the presiding judge said the lower court had not taken into account "the existence of the causal chain within which the pilots' actions occurred, and which led to the deaths of all the passengers.

"The AF447 crash was a disaster waiting to happen -- and one that could have been avoided if each of the companies involved had fully grasped the seriousness of the failure," said Sylvie Madec. Both companies announced they would appeal the ruling.

Air France, announcing its appeal, said it was "aware that this appeal prolongs what has already been a lengthy process, particularly for the families". But it pointed out that Air France's criminal liability had previously been ruled out twice."The legal battle will continue," said Simon Ndiaye, a lawyer for Airbus.

On June 1, 2009, Air France Flight AF447, travelling from Rio de Janeiro to Paris, was cruising over the Atlantic when the pilots lost control of the aircraft, causing it to plunge into the ocean. There were no survivors among the 216 passengers and 12 crew on board.

The appeal court on Thursday held Airbus squarely responsible for several faults, including underestimating the seriousness of problems with sensors and failing to properly inform the crews of operating airlines.

Air France was found guilty of having failed to provide pilot training and to adequately inform flight crews. AFP

OpenAI's model cracks 80-year-old geometry puzzle

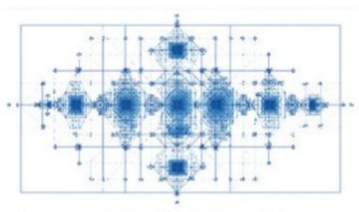
WASHINGTON

IN a big moment for both artificial intelligence and pure mathematics, an internal model developed by OpenAI has solved a famous geometry problem that stumped the world's best mathematicians for nearly eight decades, OpenAI said Thursday.

The puzzle was called planar unit distance problem, first posed by legendary Hungarian mathematician Paul Erdos in 1946. It asks a simple question: if you place a certain number of points on a flat surface, how many pairs of those points can sit one unit of distance apart?

For 80 years, the consensus answer pointed to square grid arrangements. Researchers believed grids were essentially the best way to maximise such pairs, and Erdos himself guessed an upper limit built around that assumption.

OpenAI's model has now blown that belief apart. "For nearly 80 years, mathematicians believed the best possible solutions looked roughly like square grids," OpenAI said in its announcement. "An OpenAI model has now disproved that belief, discovering an entirely new family of constructions that performs better."



A representative illustration of the planar unit distance problem

The AI produced an infinite family of point arrangements that yield a meaningful polynomial improvement over the grid. Princeton mathematician Will Sawin later refined the result, pinning the exponent gain at 0.014 — a number that matters in mathematics.

What makes the proof even more striking is how it got there. The solution reaches into algebraic number theory — a branch concerned with how numbers factor inside extended number systems — to crack what is fundamentally a geometry problem. "The proof brings unexpected, sophisticated ideas from algebraic number theory to bear on an elementary geometric question," OpenAI said. The proof was independently verified by a group of mathematicians. Fields medallist Tim Gowers called it "a milestone in AI math." Princeton number theorist Arul Shankar said: "This demonstrates current AI models can have original ideas, and then carrying them out to fruition." OpenAI described it as "the first time" AI has solved a prominent math problem.

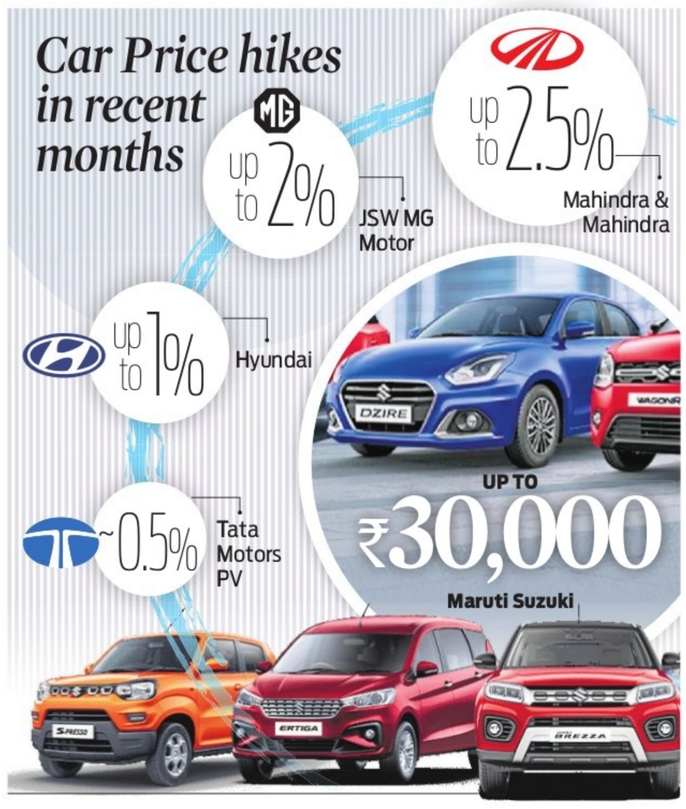
War effect: Car prices shift into overdrive

Maruti hikes prices by up to ₹30,000; joins others like Hyundai, Tata Motors which effected increase of 0.5% to 1%



ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AS the effect of last year's GST rate cuts comes to an end, and supply chain disruptions increase cost of production, OEMs have started increasing car prices. Maruti Suzuki (MSIL) on Thursday announced that it is increasing prices of its models across its portfolio by up to ₹30,000 from June.

For the past few months, the carmaker said that it has been making continuous efforts to mitigate the cost impact to the extent possible through cost reduction measures.

"However, with inflationary pressures now at elevated levels and the adverse cost environment persisting, the company has to pass on a portion of the increased costs to the market, while continuing to ensure that the impact on customers is kept to the minimum extent possible," said MSIL. The exact quantum of change will vary from model to model.

With this, the country's largest carmaker joins other players that went for a price hike recently due to inflationary pressure. For many automakers, this is their first revision following the GST rate reduction of up to 10% in late September 2025.

According to industry sources, prices of essential commodities such as steel, plastic and other metals surged sharply since early March. Steel, non-ferrous metals and plastic prices have surged between 10% and 30% in the last one year.

Earlier, Hyundai increased the prices of its models by up to 1% from May 2026. The Korean carmakers stated that the escalating input costs have necessitated passing on "a part of this impact through a marginal price revision".

Mahindra & Mahindra went for a steeper hike of up to 2.5% for its internal combustion engine (ICE) SUV and commercial vehicle (CV) range, with an average hike of 1.6% across the portfolio. This price increase came into effect from April 6.

Prior raise

Tata Motors Passenger Vehicles (TMPV) had increased the prices of its cars from April 1. The weighted average increase across its ICE portfolio is around 0.5%, with actual hikes varying by model and variant.

The price hike is a setback for car buyers as it comes at a time when retail fuel prices have also started rising.

Government-owned oil marketing companies (OMCs) hiked the price of petrol and diesel on Tuesday (May 19) by about 90 paise per litre across the country. This was the second increase in five days following the ₹3 upward revision last Friday (May 15) after four years. Analysts say more hike in fuel prices is imminent. The rise in fuel prices is likely to dampen the auto industry's growth rate, which has accelerated since GST rates rationalisation in September 2025.

Govt not planning to restrict imports of non-essentials

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

COMMERCE and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal on Thursday said the government has no immediate plans to impose restrictions on non-essential imports, even as it continues to closely monitor the evolving global economic and geopolitical situation.

Responding to a question on possible curbs on non-essential imports, Goyal said: "No such plans of that sort right now. But we have, of course, made an appeal to all the citizens of India to be more conscious about their spending on products which are import dependent." The remarks come against the backdrop of heightened geopolitical tensions in West Asia, which have triggered significant volatility in global crude oil markets and international shipping routes.

As a major importer of crude oil, India remains vulnerable to elevated energy prices and supply-side disruptions, which can increase the import bill and put pressure on inflation as well as the current account deficit.

Commenting on measures being considered to address the widening CAD, Goyal said: "We are monitoring the situation. All the various arms of the government are working as a team. Several steps are under consideration. The situation is globally quite challenging."

His comments also come amid growing concerns over India's rising import bill, particularly due to elevated crude oil and gold prices following the West Asia crisis.

While the government has not announced restrictions on imports other than precious metals such as gold, silver and platinum, Prime Minister Narendra Modi recently appealed to citizens to reduce purchases of imported goods, especially gold, and focus more on domestic products to strengthen the economy and promote self-reliance.

The government recently increased the import duty on gold and silver from 6% to 15%, while the duty on platinum was raised from 6.4% to 15.4%. Consequential changes were also made to duties on related items such as gold and silver dore, coins and findings.

The hike in import duty on precious metals is aimed at prioritising India's foreign exchange reserves for essential imports.

It is also setting up a battery assembly facility in Pune to support its electric and new-energy powertrain vehicles. JSW also has a partnership with China's SAIC Motor which manufactures and sells JSW MG Motor-branded cars in India. It stated that it is progressing as per plan on the development of its manufacturing footprint and product roadmap. "Our upcoming facility in Maharashtra will bring this plan to life as a next-generation manufacturing ecosystem built for scale, agility, and future of mobility," said the company.

NEW PRICING RULES FOR IPOs, RE-LISTED STOCKS PROPOSED

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

AIMED at improving price discovery and reducing extreme volatility after listing, market regulator Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) has proposed key changes to the way opening prices are determined for IPO and re-listed stocks.

In a consultation paper issued on Thursday, Sebi said the move is expected to improve price discovery while reducing order rejections and extreme volatility after listing. The regulator has proposed a new mechanism for determining the base price of re-listed stocks. If the revocation of suspension takes place within six months, stock exchanges will first use the latest traded closing price on the same exchange.

If that is unavailable, they may use the latest traded price from another exchange. If no recent traded price is available, the base price will be determined using valuation reports from two independent chartered accountants or valuation agencies.

Under the current system, if a company has remained suspended for over a year, the opening base price is often determined using face value or outdated book value. In many cases, this results in stocks reopening at around ₹10 even when the actual or book value is significantly higher.

Sebi has also proposed changes to the dummy price band system used during the pre-open auction session. These temporary price ranges are designed to prevent erroneous orders and reduce market manipulation.

At present, exchanges manually widen these price bands under certain conditions. However, Sebi noted that this process can delay price discovery and lead to rejection of genuine orders.

Under the new proposal, the dummy price bands would automatically expand by 10% whenever the indicative equilibrium price approaches the upper or lower limit.

'Bulk buyers at retail pumps creating fuel crisis'

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE Union government denied reports of fuel shortage in several parts of the country, stating that panic buying at a few fuel outlets is due to bulk consumers increasingly purchasing from retail outlets and rising diesel demand during the harvesting season.

According to Sujata Sharma, Joint Secretary in the Petroleum Ministry, many bulk users such as industrial consumers and transport operators are shifting to retail fuel stations due to lower prices at retail pumps. However, she maintained that there is no shortage of petrol, diesel, or liquified petroleum gas (LPG) supply in the country. "Fuel demand has gone up in some regions, driven by the agricultural season, a shift of bulk diesel to retail supply," Sharma said.

She also said that private oil marketing companies have increased fuel prices at their retail outlets, which is prompting consumers to shift towards state-owned oil marketing companies.

Currently, bulk diesel is priced at around ₹149 per litre, while retail diesel costs about ₹91 per litre in the national capital. According to official data, bulk diesel accounts for nearly 12% of the country's total diesel consumption. In FY26, India's diesel consumption stood at 94.7 million tonnes. Meanwhile, several petrol pumps across the country reportedly witnessed fuel dry-outs, with consumers sharing complaints on social media platforms. According to reports, the situation was severe in parts of Gujarat, where farmers and truck drivers have struggled for days to secure diesel supplies. Similar situations were reported in parts of Maharashtra, Rajasthan, Uttarakhand, and other states.

PANIC BUY

1. Diesel consumption was 94.7 mn tonnes in FY26
2. Currently, bulk diesel is priced at ₹149 per litre

Consumers reported either inadequate fuel availability at pumps or restrictions on purchases beyond a certain quantity. According to a petrol pump association in Rajasthan, fuel stations are receiving supplies below their demand requirements. The association said dealers have requested higher fuel allocations from oil marketing companies but are not receiving adequate supplies.

Meanwhile, Indian Oil Corporation, which operates the largest network of petrol pumps in the country, said that IndianOil has not issued any instructions regarding fuel rationing at retail outlets and that supply operations continue smoothly across India.

"The recent increase in demand is driven by higher diesel consumption during the harvesting season. Additional demand pressure has also emerged due to a shift of customers to IndianOil retail outlets owing to comparatively lower prices than private retailers, along with a visible shift of institutional and commercial consumers to retail fuel outlets," the company said.

INR rebounds strongly; gains 49p to 96.43/$

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

AFTER bleeding for nine consecutive days, the rupee made a smart recovery on Thursday and closed the session with a gain of 49 paise from the all-time low to settle at 96.37. But the one-year forward premium on the rupee rose 380 bps or 100.17 a dollar.

The gain was partly due to the news emanating from the US that Washington was keen to conclude the negotiations with Tehran within days.

On Wednesday, the one-year forward market rate for the rupee touched the crucial 100 for a dollar, indicating that the market is pricing further weakness for the rupee over the next 12 months, forex traders said.

Dilip Parmar, HDFC Securities analyst, said a prolonged geopolitical tension and sustained elevated crude prices could push it closer to the psychological 98-to-a-dollar mark in the coming months.

Explaining the several country/rupee-specific vulnerabilities, he said we import over 85% of oil requirements. This has trade deficit widening to $28.4 billion in April. Another reason is the interest rate differential which is draining FPI outflows from equities and adding a geopolitical risk premium on top.

"This toxic combination of a wide CAD, capital outflows, and a narrowing interest rate spread has made the rupee an underperformer among its Asian peers," he added.

He added beyond the standard demand-supply dynamics, the rupee has entered a self-reinforcing cycle.

LIC profit rises 23% to ₹23,467 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

LIFE Insurance Corporation has reported an over 23% on-year growth in net profit at ₹23,467 crore for the March quarter, buoyed by better operational metrics and stronger business growth, taking the annual profit to ₹57,419 crore that rose 19% on-year.

The insurer also announced a dividend of ₹10 share apart from the recently announced 1:1 bonus share issue for which it fixed the record date of May 29, which would effectively mean a shareholder will net in ₹20 as the bonus share issue double the number of share in the hands of the shareholder.

CEO R Doraiswamy told reporters in a concall Thursday that total income in the reporting quarter rose to ₹2,53,592 crore from ₹2,22,805 crore, while income from first-year premium improved to ₹12,970 crore from ₹11,069 crore and income from renewal premium increased to ₹81,933 crore from ₹79,138 crore a year ago.

For the full fiscal, the insurer earned a profit of ₹57,419 crore up 19% over ₹48,151 crore in the previous fiscal year from a total income of ₹9,73,288 crore as against ₹8,84,148 crore.

The main reasons for the huge spike in net income is the higher margin from new business premium rose to 21.2%, up from 17.6% and the a significant decline in the expense ratio which declined to 51 bps to 11.91 from 12.42 a year ago. Doraiswamy said the key solvency ratio improved to 2.35 in the quarter from 2.11 a year ago and 2.19 in the previous quarter. But the 13th-month persistency ratio inched down to 67.77 from 68.62 a year-ago and from 69.36 in the December quarter.

Assets under management rose 5.1% on-year to ₹57.3 trillion, while the value of new business surged 41.63% to ₹14,179 crore in the quarter.

ITC reports 5% rise in profit on cigarette price revision

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ITC Ltd on Thursday reported a 5% year-on-year rise in its standalone net profit too ₹5,113 crore for the March quarter FY26 against ₹4,875 crore during the same period last year, driven by price increase in its core cigarettes business to limit the impact of higher taxes.

The company's revenue from operations increased 17% year-on-year (YoY) to Rs 21,695 crore in the reported quarter.

ITC, the maker of Gold Flake and Classic cigarettes, said that an increase in GST rate from 28% of transaction value to 40% of retail sale price along with a steep hike in excise duties with effect from February 1 upon phasing out of compensation cess, has resulted in an unprecedented increase in tax incidence on cigarettes.

The ITC added that it has adopted a strategic approach to mitigate the impact of the unprecedented increase in tax incidence and sustain its market standing. The company reported cigarette revenue of ₹11,066 crore in Q4 FY26, compared with ₹8,400 crore in the January-March quarter of the previous year.

Are injuries to India stars in IPL a concern?

With multiple contracted players in the league are injured, is it time for the BCCI to rethink their existing policy

GOMESH S @Chennai

EVEN as Kolkata Knight Riders beat Mumbai Indians by four wickets to keep their play-off hopes alive on Wednesday, Shane Watson's remarks on Varun Chakaravarthy's fitness has brought back the attention towards injury management of India players during the Indian Premier League.

Watson revealed that Varun, a BCCI contracted player, had been playing for KKR despite the pain in his left foot. "All I do know is he's obviously playing through a bit of pain at the moment, which just shows how brave he is, how much he wants to be here to be able to contribute for KKR, and he's still bowling beautifully," Watson said on Wednesday. This remark comes at a time when questions have been raised about multiple India players managing injuries and playing for their respective franchise in the IPL. Senior India players like Rohit Sharma, Hardik Pandya and Suryakumar Yadav have missed games due to injuries — Rohit came back and been playing as Impact Player — and there were murmurs over full fitness of Arshdeep Singh and Ravindra Jadeja.

While Arshdeep was declared fit and Jadeja has been rested, Rohit and Hardik's availability for Afghanistan ODIs is still subject to fitness. The practice, when it comes to the IPL, has always been franchises keeping the BCCI in loop about injuries to contracted players, but it is up to them whether or not to rest a player. "So far as the IPL is concerned, the franchisees do take care about the injuries and the fitness of the players. Our physios from the CoE are also monitoring them, giving them the workload as well as the plan for how to keep them fit. So, monitoring is there but we cannot interfere too much when the IPL is going on," BCCI secretary Devajit Saikia had said on Tuesday.

However, it makes one wonder whether the BCCI should rethink the practice. It is not the first time injury to India players has become an issue. During the 2020 IPL in UAE, lack of clarity over Rohit's fitness became an issue with the Border Gavaskar Trophy Down Under looming. The then BCCI president Sourav Ganguly had told an Indian publication that the MI skipper played with 70 per cent fitness. In the weeks that followed, Virat Kohli, the then Test captain, was irked by the lack of clarity and called it a "confusing situation." Rohit eventually joined the team after missing the white-ball leg and first two Test matches.

While it happened in different circumstances — COVID protocols, bio-bubble, quarantine, etc. — the onus is on BCCI to ensure such a situation does not repeat.

'Cricketers want to play'

Meanwhile, former India cricketer Vinay Kumar gave the perspective of a player during a select media interaction felicitated by JioStar on Thursday. "At the end of the day, a player wants to play," Kumar said. "... (If) they are supposed to win to qualify, definitely bowlers or any players, they will push themselves because the team has given them everything. Also, in a cricket field, maybe in any sport, I think very rarely players will play with 100% fitness. Most of the time, they will be 90-95% fit. 5-10% here and there small niggles will be there. They are very much used to doing that," explained the former Karnataka captain, lauding Varun for his effort. While there is no questioning of any cricketer's commitment to play, the ball is in the BCCI's court to reflect and see if the policy needs a rethink.

Shubman Gill (L) and B Sai Sudharsan added 125 runs for the first wicket | BCCI

Titans deliver knock out blow to Super Kings

AGENCIES @ Ahmedabad

SHUBMAN Gill and Sai Sudharsan added to their remarkable consistency as an opening pair with a record seventh century partnership, fuelling Gujarat Titans to 229/4 against Chennai Super Kings on a true batting surface in the Indian Premier League here on Thursday. In reply, the visitors were bundled out for 140 after losing four wickets in the powerplay. With the loss, Super Kings fail to qualify for play-offs for the third successive season.

Titans skipper Gill (64 off 37) displayed sublime touch from ball one, toying with the left arm pacer Spencer Johnson in the powerplay. Gill got his fifty off 23 balls while Sudharsan (84 off 53) reached the milestone off 35 balls, his fifth consecutive half-century. Gill scored the bulk of the runs in their 125-run stand off 74 balls. The range of boundaries Gill picked up off a wayward Johnson was a masterclass in batting. He mixed minimum muscle with trademark elegance to get the desired results. His fours off Johnson included a cut off the Australian's very first ball before the Indian star used his crease against the left-arm pacer to collect boundaries at will.

After Gill's departure, Sudharsan and Jos Buttler (57 not out off 27) maintained the same tempo to take Titans well past 200. Brief scores: GT 229/4 in 20 ovs (Sudharsan 84, Gill 64, Buttler 57 n.o) bt CSK 140 in 13.4 ovs (Dube 47, Siraj 3/26, Rabada 3/32).

ONCE A 'LAZY SON' OF PRIEST, DUBEY KEEPS KKR ALIVE

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

A 'LAZY' son of a poojari (priest) was happy playing tennis ball matches and making quick bucks by helping local teams win in Masala village of Wardha district, Maharashtra. His tall frame, around 6"7', made him menacing, forcing amateur local cricketers to surrender meekly. But his elder brother saw the spark in him and convinced the then 16-year-old left-arm pacer to pick the leather ball.

Already in a big demand in his and nearby villages, Saurabh Dubey's feats reached a famous cricket coach of the district, who once was in Vidarbha Ranji Trophy squad but never got a chance in the playing XI. "I watched him bowl and immediately realised the boy has potential. His height was the X factor," Ravi Lunge, Saurabh's childhood coach, told this daily. Lunge apprised Prashant Vaidya, former India cricketer and the then chairman of Cricket Administration and Development Committee of Vidarbha Cricket Association (VCA), and sent a video of the bowler.

Within months, Saurabh shifted to VCA residential academy in Nagpur and was India's highest wicket-taker in the 2019 Emerging Teams Asia Cup. A lot happened during those three years and the ups and downs continued in the years to follow given Saurabh's laidback attitude but the 28-year-old is once again the talking point.

Brought in by Kolkata Knight Riders as a replacement for injured India pacer Akash Deep, Saurabh might had a subdued outing in his IPL debut against Royal Challengers Bengaluru but he picked up in the next match against Gujarat Titans claiming a wicket before playing a key role in KKR's win over Mumbai Indians on Wednesday. He bagged all-important wickets of Rohit Sharma and Suryakumar Yadav.

"He is a bit lazy and that cost him in his first year as a professional cricketer. Only after a year in the VCA residential academy, he was sent back home in April 2017. The coaches, selectors and other stakeholders found him uninspiring saying he did not bother to take extra efforts. He was inconsolable and then I spoke to his brother Gaurav and asked him to send him to me in the morning. I made him do a rigorous workout regime deemed necessary for fast bowlers in this age and then convinced Vaidya to take him back in the fold. It worked as he went on to play for India Emerging Team."

Things went south once again as Saurabh was lost into oblivion after playing 11 games (eight List A and three T20s) at the senior level even as his former teammate Arshdeep Singh went on to become India's premier pacer. "Once again his temperament should be blamed as he lost crucial three-four years. Injuries too played a role in it. Inaugural Vidarbha Pro T20 League last year came to his rescue as he impressed for Orange Tigers and brought himself back into contention," said Lunge.

The coach informed that former KKR all-rounder Venkatesh Iyer recommended Saurabh's name to head coach Abhishek Nayar. Earlier, he was bought by Sunrisers Hyderabad in 2022 but his season was cut short by injury.

Hailing from a modest background, apparently money was priority for Saurabh as he became a mercenary plying his trade for whichever team that paid the most. Father Rajendraprasad Dubey, meanwhile, wanted him to pursue education and even got him admitted to an Industrial Training Institute (ITI) centre after he was sent back by the VCA. But cricket was Saurabh's calling and he seems to be back where he belongs.

SRY gene test to make debut in Ranchi nat'ls

CHANDRA PRABHU @Ranchi

IN a first in Indian athletics, women will undergo the SRY gene tests in the ongoing Senior National Athletics Federation Competition, Athletics Federation of India (AFI) top official Lalit Bhanot said on Thursday.

These tests, however, will only be mandated across the country next year. The AFI began tests after World Athletics brought in new regulations over participation in events in women's section during the 2025 World Athletics Championships in Tokyo.

As the four-day federation competition – which serves as the final selection trial for the Commonwealth Games – has brought top women athletes, most of them are likely to undergo this test. "We are expecting roughly over 100 women athletes to be tested in this event," Bhanot told reporters here.

The AFI has decided to mandate only by next year due to the cost factor. In a vitual press conference last month, AFI spokesperson Adille Sumariwalla said that the AFI will pay ₹3500 per test. "Some athletes may not afford to pay for a test. So, the AFI proposed to the (union) government for funds. The government will help with expenses through AFI," he said.

"These tests should be done only at labs identified by the medical commission of the AFI," Bhanot said, adding that the federation may continue to incur the expenses next year. One of the key reasons why the AFI has decided to conduct these tests during competitions is to counter impersonations. "For example, there was a camp in SAI NCOE in Bengaluru ahead of a junior Asian meet where girls got tested. Now, in this competition, women athletes will get tested. Then, in next month's Senior Inter-State meet (in Bhubaneswar), athletes who may not participate here would be tested there. And those who have not taken part then, they will be told to come to their training centres for the test," he said. Athletes will be chosen on a random basis.

The introduction of this test came across as one of the AFI's landmark reforms in April's Annual General Meeting (AGM) in Kohima, Nagaland.

According to a 2025 statement from World Athletics, women athletics will go through this test only once. "This is to be conducted via a cheek swab or blood test, whichever is more convenient," the statement reads.

Dropped from Act, sports ministry wants to criminalise dope offenders

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

JUST the other day World Anti-Doping Agency chief Witold Banka reminded sports firmament that when it comes to performance enhancing drugs and illegal steroids, India leads the pack. Days later, Indian athletes topped charts of the Athletics Integrity Unit's (World Athletics' anti-doping watchdog) charts as the biggest offenders of doping in the world.

While speaking at the Global Anti-Doping Intelligence and Investigations Network Final Conference, Banka said that the priority of Indian authorities should be to target the supply chains. There were meetings with CBI officials and there was an agreement reached to engage with INTERPOL to crackdown on these supply chains.

Though the National Anti-Doping Agency has been closely working with the intelligence wing of the WADA and also had been conducting raids with their assistance, they did not have provision to initiate criminal proceedings against perpetrators – a provision omitted when the Act was made. Days after the GAIIN conference, the sports ministry has proposed an amendment to the Act and placed the content for public engagement that would criminalise possession of banned substances. The proposed amendment also would make trafficking illegal. This will be under the provision 25B. It says that this provision would apply to any person "committing, aiding or abetting the activities specified under section 25B, including such activities committed outside India, which if committed in India, would constitute an offence under section 25B."

This will also mean that apart from searching, authorities will have the wherewithal to criminal action against perpetrators. The two main points covering this are list under 25B Provisions relating to offence. It says, "Whoever, for the purpose of or in connection with doping in sport, traffics in, sells, dispenses or otherwise places on the market without trafficking, or makes out a prescription for, any prohibited substance or prohibited method, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to (five) years, or with fine which may extend up to (two lakh) rupees, or both." The amendment also covers those individuals who "administers or applies to an athlete, for the purpose of or in connection with doping: (a) a prohibited substance, or (b) a prohibited method, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to [5] years, or with fine which may extend up to [₹2 lakh], or both."

Tejaswin aims to qualify both in high jump and decathlon for Glasgow CWG

CHANDRA PRABHU @Ranchi

THERE was a sense of calmness as the sun went down at the Birsa Munda Football Stadium, Ranchi on Thursday. Come dawn on Friday, there will be a different kind of energy among the athletes who feature in the all-important National Senior Athletics Federation Competition at the venue.

The event serves as the final selection trials for the Commonwealth Games in Glasgow later this year. With most of the qualifying marks for events better than current national records, athletes are expected to put in their personal best performance. For some, like the 2022 CWG bronze (high jump) and Asiad silver medallist (decathlon) Tejaswin Shankar, the road to Glasgow looks clear. Taking part in both high jump and decathlon, his personal bests (2.29m in high jump and 7826 points in decathlon, both national records) in both events are better than the qualification marks (2.22m and 7787 pts.). "The reason I am choosing combined events is that there is another high-jump event amongst 10 other events. If I put on a good performance that I qualify for high-jump in the decathlon, I think that's unprecedented. I always try to make such challenges in my mind so that I can add new challenges. And I got some excitement from my own performance. But my goal in CWG will be to compete in the decathlon event because it is the toughest event of track and field," he said on Thursday.

Tejaswin Shankar | EXPRESS

However, his participation in two events at the CWG, if he qualifies, will be decided by the AFI. "I think their input becomes very important on what will be the best combination. Because high-jump happens after the decathlon. So, I might not be able to give my best at that event after 10 events," he said. But he is not leaving any stone unturned. He said that preparing for the conditions here in Ranchi is essential. "What makes most of the difference is the weather. I have been training for two days. I have to bear the elements. It's not even when you do the event. You don't feel tired at that time. But, when you wait for the event, it accumulates. That's very important. That's why I came here for training."

With temperatures expected to rise up to 40 degree Celsius in the next few days, the schedule such that it does not make athletes participate under the hot sun. "Luckily, the schedule is such that you start at 7 AM. Morning session ends at 9-10 AM. We can skip the peak heat. I think 6 PM onwards is better. Something else that's good is that the humidity is less. I remember in the 2023 Senior inter-state meet in Bhubaneswar, I was worried when it would end. The humidity was very high."

In addition to managing the heat levels, managing the events under decathlon will be something that the Asiad and commonwealth games medallist will keep in mind. "Many times we think of the combined events or the decathlon as 10 different events, but actually, it's just one event. So you have to lose some points to gain some points. The mindset for this competition is that if I can accumulate as many points as possible in my areas of strength, then there will be at least one or two weaknesses. So, I think it's the overall score that matters."
